

The Chiefs

Published by The Senior Class of the Greenville High School

With the Aid and Assistance of the Students of the Greenville
High School

VOLUME XI

MAY 1921

This Book is Dedicated to Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen Mhose splendid co-operation helped to make this book possible

Oh! How we love you dear old G. H. S.

Of all the other schools you are the best,

You'll be known in history for this famous victory;

Oh! How we love you dear old G. H. S.

Foreword

HIS book is a reflection of life in the Greenville High School. We hope that it will be as interesting and as entertaining to those who are to continue their work here as to those who graduate with the Class of 1921. We believe that "The Chief" will bring happy memories to those who have already graduated and are traveling the broader pithways of life. We also cherish the hope that it will meet with the approval of the public.

Great credit must be given to the business managers and to the irteditors, for they have done much to make this year's Annual a success. We wish to extend our thanks to the advertisers and to the subscribers, who have so loyally sapported as from year to year, and to the students and the faculty who have co operated in collecting and preparing the material.

We have endeavored to bring to the readers pictures, portraying High School activities in the G. H. S. If we have accomplished this, we teel that we have been repaid for our effort in editing the High School Annual. We present to you "The Chief of 1921," HARRY E. CULBERTSON.

The way pupils attend High School at the county seat of their best agricultural county in the State of Ohio and the third richest county in the United States

G

W. C. ROHLE OF K. History and Science

C. L. ALLEN History and Civics

R E. KESSLER Mathematics and Science

J. W. GOWDY

C L. BAILEY Principal

MINOR McCOOL Superintendent

HARRY C METZGER
Thysics and Chemistry

ANNA BIER

BERTHA KELZ Music

DOROTHY EVANS
Physical Education

ALBERTA ROSS Housebold Arts

(5)

EDNA KIDWELL English

ADA MORRIS Mathematica

SYLVIA BALTHASER Commercial Department

ANNA IFEHRAR
Typewritegant chography

HELEN LINDSEY

MARGARET LAIR English and Mathematics

GLADYS DAVENPORT English

H. H KRICKENBERGER Industrial Art

D. C. DRAKE Athletica

PAUL C. WARNER Biology and Agriculture

OTHELLO OTTMAN

THE CHICE

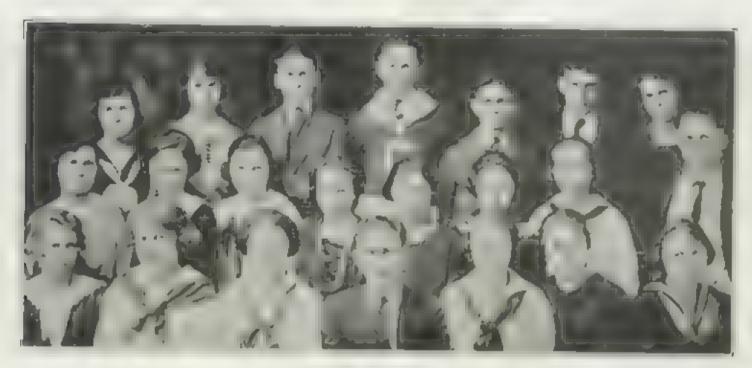

Annual Staff

Editor in Chief	. Harry E. Culbertson
Assistants	{ Farl K. Jackson Catharine Katzenberger
Business Manager	, Reland Schreel
Assistant	, Florence Vance
Literary Editor	Esther V. Bowman
Assistant	Mary Buchanan
Art Editor	Ray Keller
Assistant	Lorena Mendenhall
Orgination Editor	Josephine Jones
Assistant	Dorothy Coppock
Athletic Editors	William C. Jobes Doris A. Kerlin
Humor Editor	, Robert M. Ganger
Assistants	\ \begin{cases} \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \
Staff Secretary	Nellie Dunham
Typists	Myron Kemble Emerson E. Lavington Mildred I. French Bessie M. Huffman Sarah Ross Josephine Jones Elanor Mary Johannes

In S Mr

AMERICANIZATION

Americanization! What is it? We read about it, we talk about it, but, do we think about it? Americanization is not the question of opening or closing oar gates to many aliens waiting to come in, but earing for those already here and making them desirable citizens.

Americanization has been called the "get-together spirit," This shows there are two sides to the question. And so there are, Before we can truly Americanize the alien, we native born Americans must have some knowledge of those who come to our country. Their civilization is much older than ours. They love and are proud of their ways and customs which they have inherited from their ancestors. When they come, we give them many, many things and they in turn bring with them to us, things that will enrich the life of our nation. When we reach the view point that mutual help is necessary, it will not take long to solve the problem.

The first essential in proper assimilation of our foreign born is to teach them the English language. We cannot have a unitied nation unless we have a common tongue so we can understand each other.

Only a small portion of these people can be brought into night schools and we must reach them through their work. Especially trained teachers for class work, regular teachers able to do night work, trained social workers and men and women who are deeply interested in this problem, should be employed to meet these people at the most convenient time and work with them.

The instruction should not be limited to test books alone, but should include everything which they do not understand. Health conditions, especially, should hold a large place in their instruction. If we expect the alien to make a happy and contented citizen, he must know how to keep himself physically fit.

The congested condition in our cities and the large army of unemployed are among the foremost questions of today. These problems are due to the large number of foreigners in our cities. Distribution of foreigners has been suggested as a remedy for these conditions. This will send them into the country. Thus, in scattering them about, where needed, we will overcome any chance of their forming foreign settlements, and bring them in contact with more Americans. In this way they will grasp, far more readily, American ways and with the learning of the English language, they will come to respect our American institutions and make helpful, law-abiding citizens.

Thelma Dolores Faught, '22.

MERELY A SUGGESTION

How do you study? If you have a hard task to perform, it is a great economy of effort to start it at once. A hundred rules for study could be named, but these are a few of the most important ones sent out by Principal Bailey at the beginning of this school year:

1. Keep yourself in good physical condition.

 Form habits of study, such as a place study habit and a timestudy habit.

3. Concentrate on the subject you are studying.

4. Do not apply for help until you have to.

5. Get rid of the idea that you are studying for the teacher.

6. Form the habit of mentally reviewing each paragraph as soon as you have read it.

7. I and out by trial whether you succeed better by beginning with the hardest or the easiest task, when you are confronted by several tasks of unequal difficulty.

8. Have a clear notion of the aim.

9. In all your work apply your knowledge as much as possible and as soon as possible.

10. Form the habit of working out your own concrete examples of all general rules and principles.

If we followed these rules faithfully all the year we would not have to feel this way:

That cram-jam-exam time Is drawing very near; Around you, very plainly If you listen, you can hear The walls of all poor students Who've enjoyed themselves this year. Now, if you're sympathetic Won't you shed for us a tear? We try to keep our mem'ries Up in our top floors bunked. But what's the use?--we're bound to hear At least two words-- "You've flunked." This is the last part of the year, When everybody crams. Our mothers shout, our teachers spout "Look out for your exams!"

Startling, is it not, to learn that the United States occupies the ninth place of all the civilized countries of the world in education? In Darke County alone, there are five hundred and twenty-two men of voting age who can neither read nor write. The number of illiterates over ten years of age is nine hundred and eighty-eight. In Greenville there are one hundred and eighteen people over ten years of age who can neither read nor write.

Now it is up to the students of Greenville Hi to decrease this number of uneducated people as much as possible.

All this, of course, is merely a suggestion.

MARGARET BROWN, '24.

2

DYEING-FOR THE HOSPITAL

Greenville decided to build a hospital. What the pupils of the Greenville Public Schools could do to help in this undertaking, was the important question diseased by Mr. McCool and Miss Bier.

The Domestic Art classes, under the direction of the art instructor, had been tying and dveing unbleached mashin, making many won left div colored pillow covers, ranners, by assessind bags, artistic and unusual, suitable gifts for the Christmus season. This suggested the idea of having the girls try their luck with the magic over their sixty varies of muslin and of disposing of the results, at a sale to be held at Memorial Hall.

Great was the excitement when the articles were tied, when they were put into the dye, when they were stirred, and finally, when they were curried, dripping over the steves, talles and floor to the sink where they were t used and hang up to dry. Are we gon g to dye today? Are you ready to dye? These were the questions he is each morning at the beginning of the class. Stirring the materrals constantly was certainly but work, especially when they had to be kept at the boiling point; but when we thought what a worthy cause it was for, we sighed, wiped the perspiration, with already damp handkerelisets, from our tace, and continued stirring the full forty-five minutes required. We could harely wait until the arneles were dry enough to open and see the spot in each design which always varies and in kes the figure more interesting. Some girls did not have the patience to wait for them to cry, so unwrapped the cord at once. Alas' Almost immediately the terrible hand of fate came in to prinish these tho egitless girls, for the die slowly but steadily begin to creep into the design which was completely destroyed.

Atter becoming dry, the articles which had been dyed were taken to the sewing room where, under the direction of Miss Ross, we proceeded to all a fouch of black or colored varn, to pat in the hems of the scarfs, and to make the pillow covers.

Finally, the day arrived for the sale and found us in fear and trembling. The articles were first shown to our good friend, Mrs St Clair, who is ever ready to encourage and help us in our work. She was so delighted with the results that she purchased six pillows and left in order for more. In the afternoon came a public spirited citizen who bought five and remarked that their bright, at tractive colors were just what he was looking for. People continued to come and buy out when hight came, there remained a number unsold.

Then one day Miss Bier, with a mysterious air annoanced, that all the sewing and art classes were to appear before her at 3:15. The mystified pupils entered the room. Those who could, seized a chair and the others lined up around the room, waiting for the mystery to be solved. This occurred when Miss Bier solenially announced that we should hold an auction to dispose of the remaining field and dyed articles. Lois Booker, who had before this shown unusual powers, was to be the actioneer and I was asked to serve as clerk.

The sale began at once. Lois took her stand on a chair which handsomely sapported her weight, and holding up a gorgeous scarf containing all the colors of the rambow, began, "This is a perfectly good piece". No hales in it' Stylish gift shops in the cities easily get two dollars and fifty cents for one like this! You pay for the design rather than for the cost of material only, when you buy of the city shop. Who will bid thirty-five cents? Forty? Sixty? Eighty? One dollar and a quarter? Sold to Freeman Warner!"

It looked like Freeman would have liked to buy all of them. However, he did not succeed in this for many were sold to other budgers. One of these buyers was too tunid to bid and so had breeman, the experienced one, bid for him. It was encovered later that timid freshman was Willy Rush.

We have never heard why Willy wanted that particular rose colored one nor what the boys aid with all those levely, vivid colored pieces they bought. It is suspicioned that some of the Semor boys are saving them for next year, when they go to house-keeping.

Lois was so successful that she promises in the future to rival Darke County's timous auctioneer. She even succeeded in disposing of a top for a pincushion. The inistined students were relieved of their tright and suffered no after effects except the lightening of their pocketbooks. Likewise, the girls have suffered no after effects, and feel that they have not dyed in vain, but for a noble cause

But all this activity was only a part of what was done by the pupils in the Greenville schools to all to the hospital fund. The boys, not to be beaten by the girls, made toys in the Manual Training department, and sold them. Grade children had a wonderful sile of their hand colored circs, this givengineer share to the fund.

All together the sum of $514.70 was cleared, $61.10 of which was from tied and aved articles sold. The entire sum earned by the students of the various schools has been placed on deposit ready to equip a room in the hospital when the building is ready.

LORENA MENDENHALL '21

25

THE VALUE OF SPARE MOMENTS

Few pupils realize as they pass through school days, the importance of time. It is said to be so valuable that but one moment at a time is given to us. And if we use each moment properly, as it comes, the most difficult lessons may be learned and many good books may be read.

Emment men and women in the past have told us that they owed many of their accomplishments, in the world, to the fact that they made use of the spare moments in their daily life. I homas A. Edison could not have given to the world all the inventions and applications of electricity, which he has, if he had not been a constant worker, striving to give something to the world that would be of use to his fellow men.

The educated mind is an active mind. It can entertain thoughts that are noble, pure and uplifting, which will give strength and beauty to the character; or it can allow to be entertained thoughts that are low and degrading, which will, if continued leave a blur or scar upon the human soul.

B' constantly striving to improve each passing moment, we may be able to gather rich stores of knowledge in the springtime of life, for use and enjoyment when winter age comes on, and also, be able to accomplish something worth while for humanity and the world.

Dorothy Younker, '24.

CO-OPERATION

If a number of persons were asked the question, "What is the most essential quality of a good high school?" the majority of them would probably answer, "A well trained teaching force." But, while an excellent faculty is necessary for a high standard school, there is another essential quality, without which the school is a tail-ure. I refer to co-operation. A teacher may be able to explain a subject thoroughly, but of what value will that be to the student if he does not give his attention to what the instructor says?

In our high school we have several splendid examples of co-operation. Our foot-ball and basket ball teams did wonders as the result of team-work. They realized that one man could not accomplish much without the co-operation of the rest of the team, and it was this understanding that made them winners. Our Glee Club and Orchestra furnish other good examples of co-operation. The members of these organizations all work together. No one person tries to distinguish himself above the others, for he knows that in so doing he would spoil the harmony of the entire organization.

Many schools are classed as low standard schools. Who is to blame for this? The faculty in each of these schools? Certainly not. The blame generally lies with the pupils themselves. Many students go to high school with the idea of doing just enough work to get a diploma at the end of their four years. Such persons are the ones who are to blame for the low standard of scholarship in the schools which they attend. Day after day, they come to school with lessons unprepared, and of course entire classes are held back by these people. They do not seem to realize that the standard of any school depends upon the students, or if they do, they do not care enough for the honor of their school to try to lift its standard.

They lack the spirit of co-operation.

In many of the activities of our own high school, we lack this important thing, especially in our classes. Our teachers can assign lessons, but they cannot help us to advance unless we study those lessons. Why can we not show the same spirit in our classes that we display at the games? Our teachers can do very little to advance the standard of the school without the co-operation of the students, and the students likewise, can do little without help from the teachers.

There is only one way to correct this serious defect in our high school, and that is for the students and the faculty to work together. Get the right school spirit, and encourage others to do so. It is co-operation we need and must have, or our standard can never be lifted to the high plane which it should reach. For it is by co-operation, and co-operation only, that a school can be made all that it should be.

Lois E. Lohmann, '21.

OUR OLD BUILDING

Exervone is interested in something new. But our high school building is old, very old, in fact much too old, though we have to be satisfied with it for the simple reason, that we have no other.

This city is located in one of the richest farming districts in the United States. Each year its citizens appropriate vast sums for the paying of streets and highways, building or improving five charches and places of business, yet we, for want of a better, have to go to the same old school building, with its disfigured desks, its torrid or frigid rooms, its useless ventilation system and bid conditions in general.

Recently, Sidney erected a new high school building, costing thousands of dollars. Ansonia has a new building as time as any in this part of the state.

The fact the "Old West" has been moved from one location to another, and condemned, does not seem to worry our elders who remark, "If it was good enough for us, it is good enough for our children." But do you really think it is, dear reader?

BIRELY LANDIS, '22.

An Excerpt From Virgil's "Aenid"

I sing of a hero brave and bold,
They called him Aeneas, so we're told,
By fate he was forced to roam around
'Till at last a great city he could found.

Now Troy was so large and had such strength,
That only by guile she fell at length,
The Greeks then set fire to all of Troy,
But Aeneas escaped with wife and boy.

Our hero watched o'er the refugees,

He helped them build ships to sail the seas,

The fates thus agreed, his wife then died,

So he sought a new land and second bride.

The ships were soon wrecked on Africa's coast,
At Carthage of which Dido did boast,
Aeneas told all his tales to her
'Till she felt in love with this voyager.

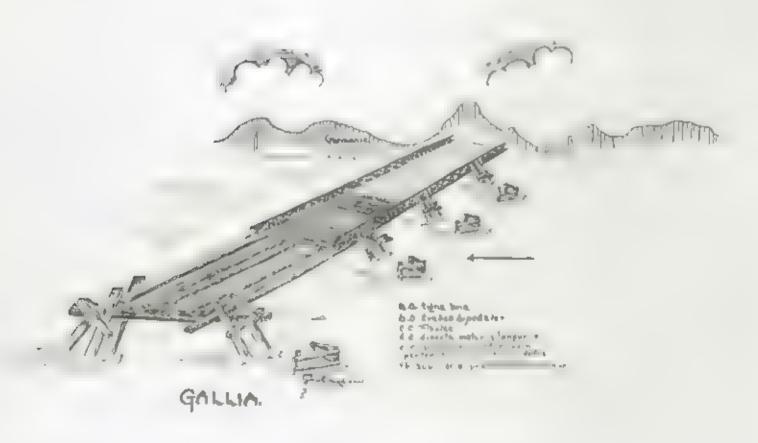

The gods threatened him in idleness,

He left Dido in unhappiness,

And she was so "peeved" at his rash act

That she slew herself the very next night,

CATHERINE, KATZENBERGER '21

Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-One

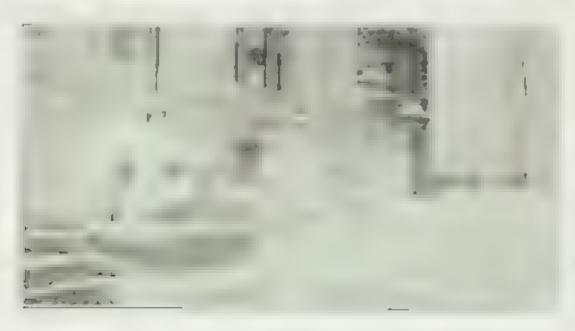

NE balmy day in early September in the year nuneteen hundred and seventeen, this worthy and esteemed class entered into the loving care of G. H. S. Like every other Freshman class we greatly resembled young grass in color. However, our bump of curosity was of mammoth proportions, so it was not many moons ere we had learned all there was to be learned concerning the lite and traditions of G. H. S. I has accustomed to our new mode of living, we at once determined to put ourselves and our Alma Mater on the map in large red letters.

With this goal in view, we entered into the many and varied activities of our famous institution of learning with such a spirit and tash that the "pep of the Class of '21," became a phrase signifying the "pep supreme." Since the very start our members have been leaders in all the various phases of High School life.

Take a hasty look at the personnel of the school athletics teams and see the number of our men. In this, our last year, fifty percent of the men who tought the battles of the Green and White, also wore the Old Rose and Silver. Pick up any Annual of recent date and see the works of our artists. If you are in doubt as to our musical talent, just find out to which class many of the members of the several musical organizations belong. Our dramatic ability is also far famed, and we proved our worth as debaters by defeating last year's Senior class in a stirring debate on the Mexican question.

As we leave the teachers will sigh, partly in sadness and partly in relief, for with all our good qualities we have had our share of faults. Yet we know that our good deeds have far surpassed these, and trust that we will be remembered by them, rather than by our frequent misdemeanors. Thus we finish our High School career, confident that we have distinguished ourselves, and hoping that the name of Greenville High School will shine brighter and the Green and White a little prouder because of the Class of 1921. HARVIY D. RUSH '21

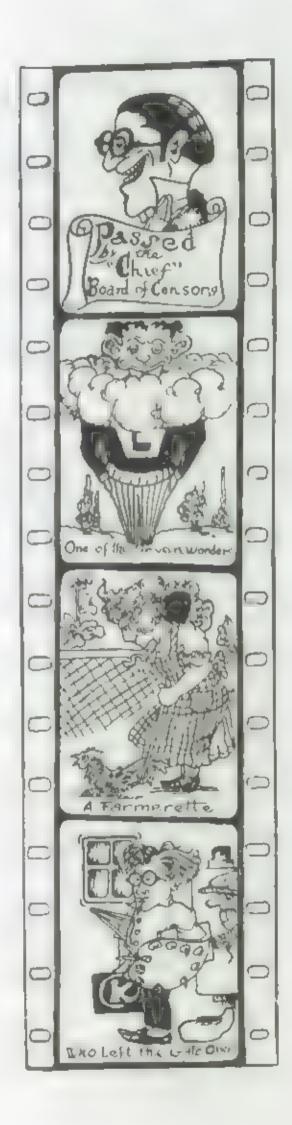

JOHN C. FOX

EARL K. JACKSON

ESTHER V. BOWMAN

RAY KELLER

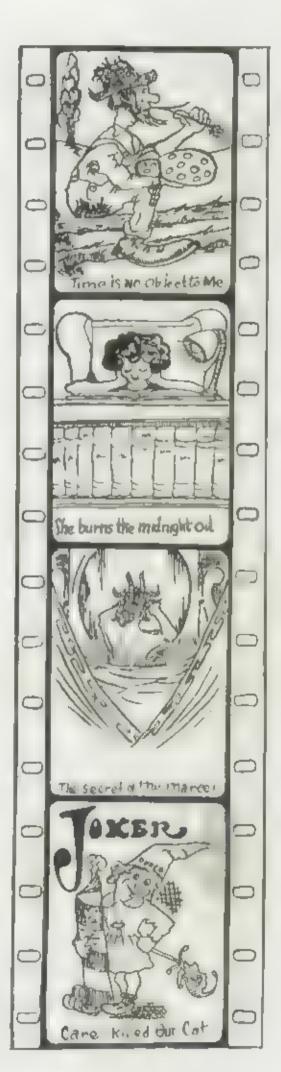

FORFST L. ARMSTRONG

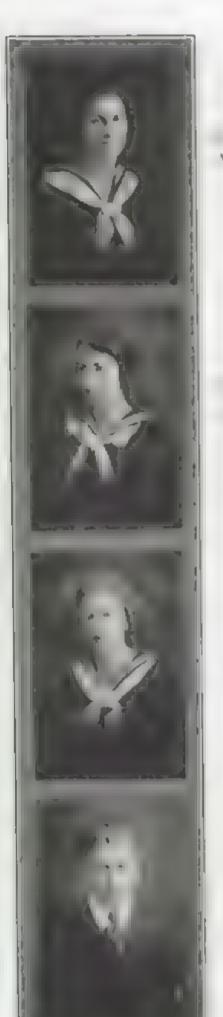

MARY FSTHER BOLICH

MARY ETTA BOYFR

MARY BUCHANAN

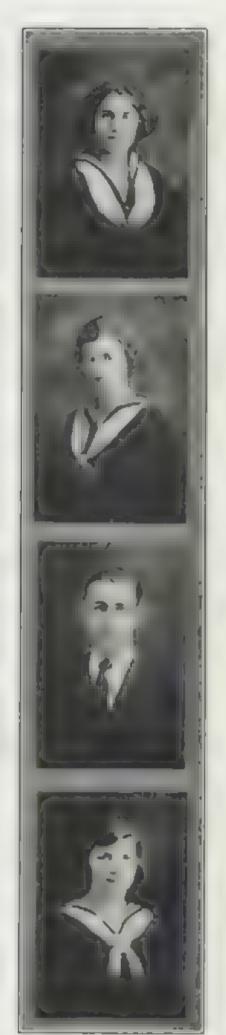

MARY ANNA CALDERWOOD

E. J. COLVILLI

MARGARET E. COOKE

NELLIE MARCH DUNHAM

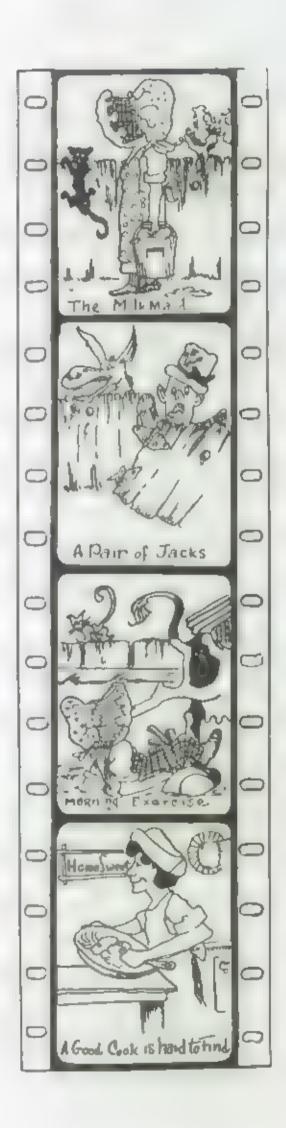

DASSIE EATON

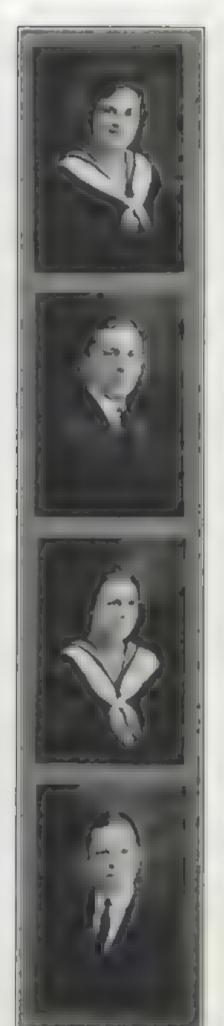

ADAH M. FOX

MILDRED TRIS FRENCH

ROBERT M. GANGER

BERTHA ROSELLA GLESSNER

JAMES E. HELMAN

RUBY M. HOKI

BESSIE M. HUFFMAN

VERA FAY HUFFORD

MARY ESTHER HUGHES

WILLIAM C. JOBES

FIEANOR MARY
[OHANNES]

HELEN L. JOHANNES

JOSEPHINE JONES

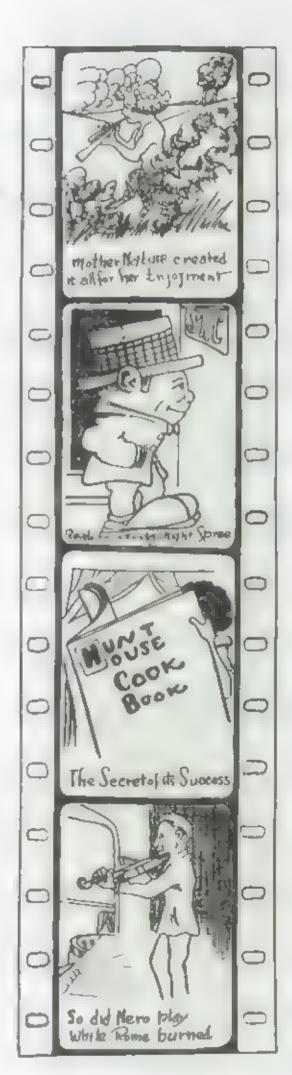

ATHARINI KATZENBERGER

JAMES A. KELLER

FIHEL MERL KING

MYRON B. KEMBLE

DORIS A. KERLIN

LOIS FLIZABETH
LOHMANN

IONE V. McKEON

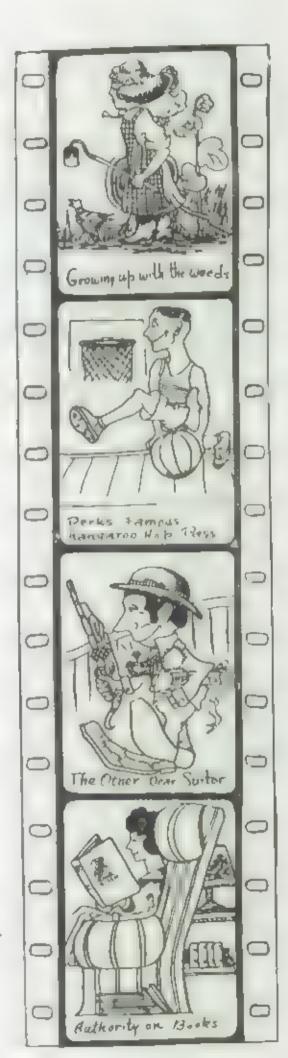

LUCILE E. MARKWITH

PAUL R. MARTIN

ROBERT MARTIN

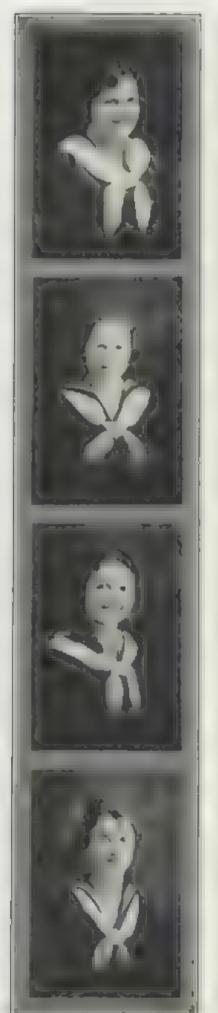

DOROTHEA MFNDENHALL

THE CHEEF

LORENA MENDENHALL

CLARA C. MEYER

NEVA MICHAEL

MARY M. MILLER

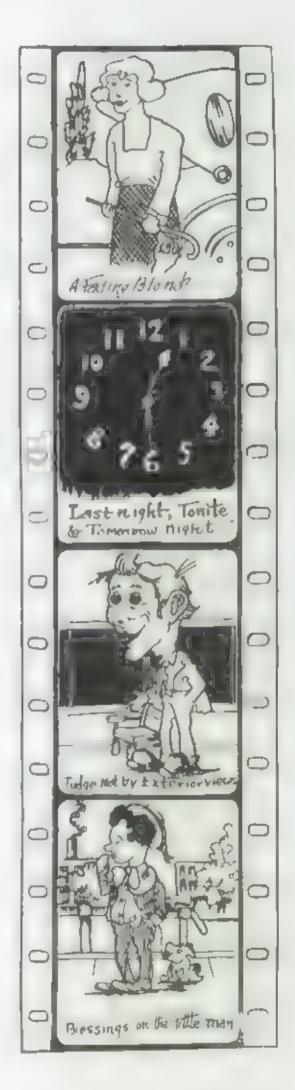

FULITTA M. MOFELER

MARTHA E. MONG.

FLVIN W. MURPHY

FRNEST NEVILLE

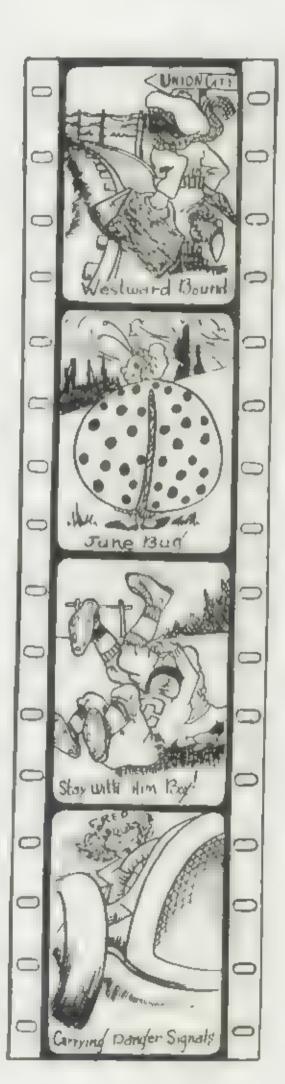

FIHFL E. OFLSLAGER

VERA JUNE PEARCE

DAVID L. RECK

BEULAH REECE

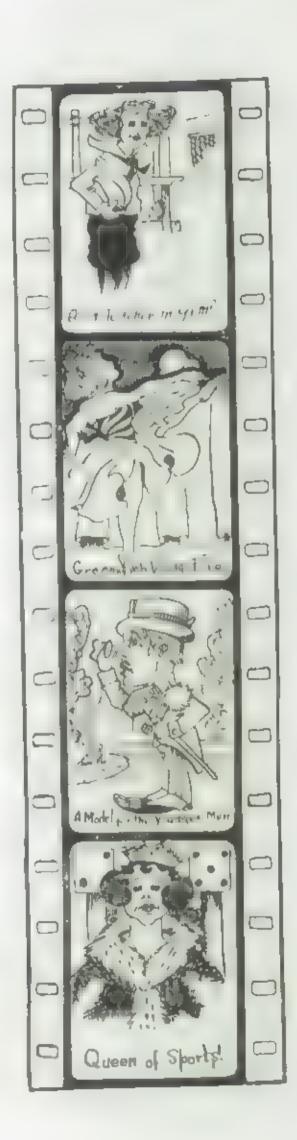

JUANITA REDMAN

SARAH ROSS

HARVEY D. RUSH

RELAND SCHRFEL

ADRIAN SMALL

FDWARD H. STEFFEN

GEORGE 8, STEPHENS

ROBERT STOLTY

RUTH A. SWARTZ

ARNO G. TEAFORD

LAWRENCE H
FOWNSEND

FLORENCE VANCE

HAZIEM WEAVER

TAVIES E WEAVER

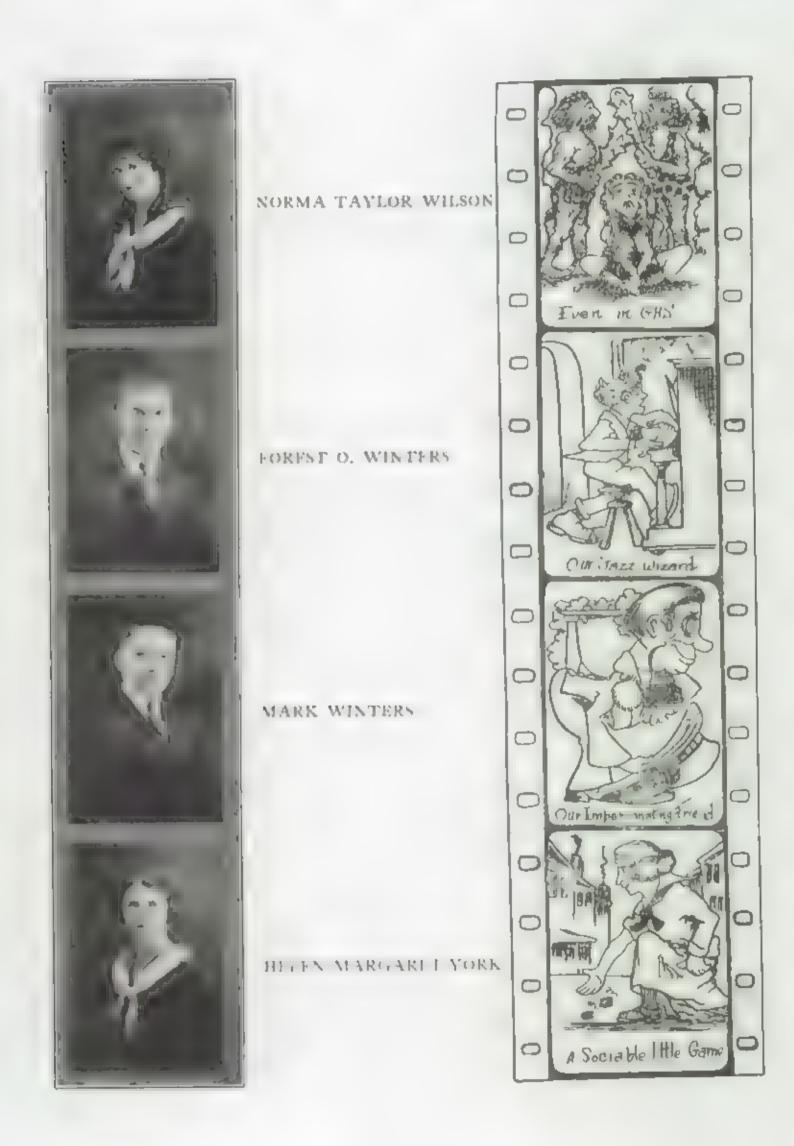

MARYBESS WILLDUSCH

LEOYD WEISENBARGER

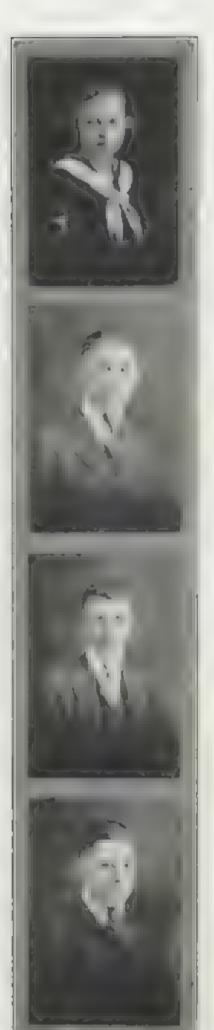

THEEMA L YOUNG

EMERSON E. LIVINGSTON

ROBERT KOLP

HARRY BAWORTH

FREEMAN D. WARNER

PAUL YOUNKER

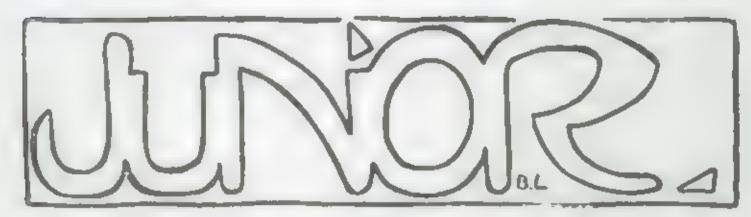

CLASS ORGANIZATION

Harry Beichler......President Pauline Holzapfel.....Treasurer

Myers Clark....... Vice President Frances Kurz..... Secretary

Junior Class History

NE bright September morning in 1918, a group of shy and timed boys and girls entered the portals of G. H. S., to take up the life work of High School students. In our first year I suppose we were no better than all other classes at that stage of High School students. During our first year we had to undergo some rough treatment at times, but we soon became accustomed to that. Our Freshman year, although at times lengthy, soon passed, but not before we had our quota of social gatherings. During this year our members branched out into various activities of the High School, some showed remarkable ability in athletics, some in art and others in music. There were a few who showed "symptoms" of becoming very good students. We have since developed some of the best Juniors that have everbeen "manufactured" in old G. H. S.

Our second year was very much like our first, except that those who had clang to their Freshmen traits, now dropped them and took up their work with a more serious point of view. Our "stars," who had been casting dim reflections through the clouded sky, now shone brightly. Our first social function was a bob sled party, after which we were entertained at the home of Vivian Davison; the sceone was our class picture, which was held at Overlook Park, at West Milton. Eaght machine loads went to Overlook, where the day was spent in swimming and boating. It was a tired crowd that came home that night.

We are now Juniors, but hope to be Semors soon. Our class functions for this year have been Jimited to a Hallow'een party, which was held at the home of Dorothy Drill, the greater part of the class was present on this occasion.

At present we are well represented in every branch of High School activities. In the class room we have some of the best students in the High School. Our musical ability is displayed in the High School Orchestra and in the Glee Clubs. The school athletic teams would be greatly damaged if the Junior boys were absent. We have, also, our representatives making rapid progress in the Art Department.

With this solid foundation, the Class of 1922 has complete confidence in itself that it will turn out one of the best graduation classes ever turned out by old G. H. S.

HARRY D. BEICHLER '22

CARNEGIE LIBRARY IN WINTER

Junior Class Roll

Arnett, Helen Benten, Lola Campbell, Goldia Coon, Mildred Davison, Vivian Dohme, Catherine Drill, Dorothy Ebeling, Maud Lyer Myra Faught, Thelma Faust, Aletha Folkerth, Helen Hapner, Mary Holzapfel, Pauline Jennings, Elizabeth Kamons, Sylvia Kamons, Bertha Kirby, Abbie Kuns, Ruth Kurz, Frances Lamb, Hazel Maddox, Violet Maher, Katherine Mannix, Marjorie Marker, Helen Mathews, Wanda Mills, Audrey Riegel, Mae Ruh, Mildred Runkel, Gertrude Schafer, Opal Seighmunt, Ruby Shultz, Eva-Shultz, Treva Sucary Jola Stubbs, Se Stump, Daisie Troutman, Neva Froutman, Lola Ungericht, Helen Urschel, Blanche Vanata, Lucile Warren, Bertha Wilson, Marguerite

Wise, Belle Beichler, Harry Birt, Paul Bowman, George Briney, Damon Clark, Meyers Cole, Date Coppess, Robert Dewyr, Robert Earhart, Fred Eldson, Francis Fierstein, Clinnard Folkerth, Harry Fetzer, Nicholas Halladay, Karl Harris, Phillip Harrison, Martin Hughes, Thomas Jenkinson, Robert Karn, Robert Klinger, Kenneth Lammers, Howard Landis, Birely Lephart, Dale Ludy, Walter Mangan, Charles McGreevey, Joe Powell, Otto Rehka, Glen Rehmert, Chalmer Roark, Hobart Shiverdecker,

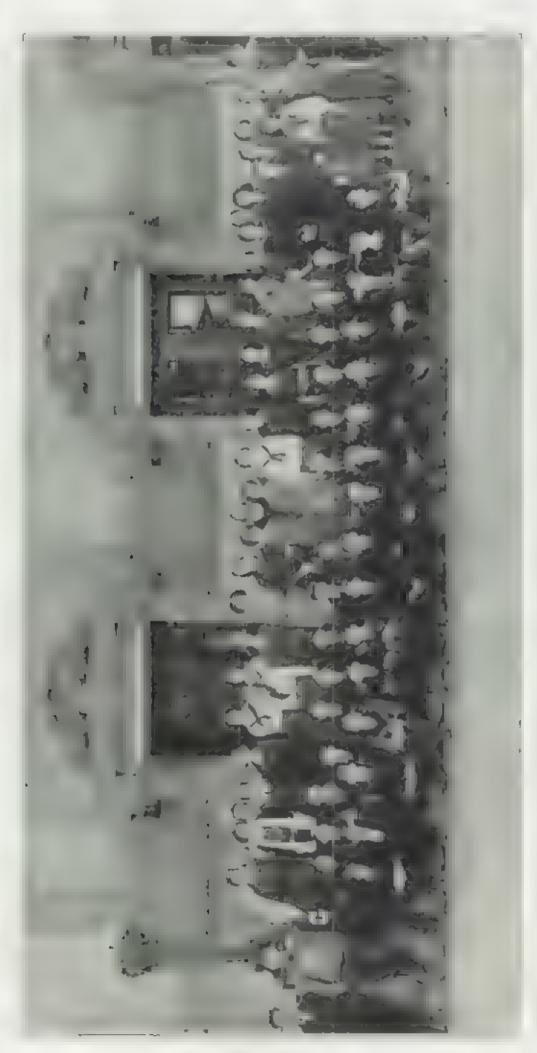

Lohman

Sipple, Ralph Smith, Ralph Snorf, Eugene Snyder, Carl Wagner, Mark Weisenbarger,

Harold

Young, Searl Youst, Paul Shepherd, Omer Teegarden, Wilken

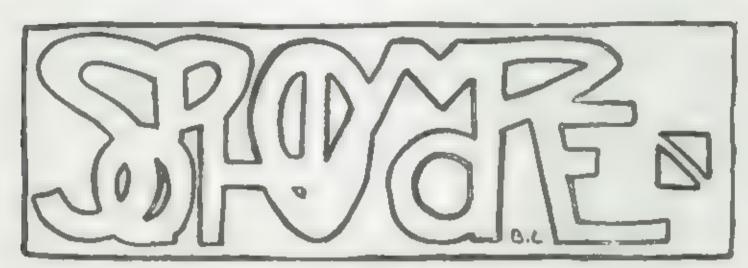

JUNIOR CLASS PICTURE

CLASS ORGANIZATION

Wm. Snyder....... President Gerald Peiffer...... Vice-President John Rush...... Treasurer Maurice Rhoades Secretary

Sophomore Class

Last spring the Freshman Class ended its career with a glorious party at Glen Miller Park Richmond. We went over in machines and had a fine time. Swimming? You'd be surprised! At noon we had a wonderful picnic dinner, and of course, after that we had to visit the Zoological Garden—for Richmond has quite a menagene.

This year we entered the halls of G. H. S., prophesying that we would make this year better than last. We chose for our class officers: William Snyder, President; Gerald Snyder, Vice-President; Maurice Rhoades, Secretary, and John Rush, Treasturer. This is William Snyder's second term of office, and we all agree that no better president could be found.

We have had but two parties this year, the first being a fallow cen masquerade at the North School Building. Everyone had a delightful time. The main feature of the party was given by two boys disguised as an elephant and a clown driver. Late in the evening retreshments of doard nots, pie and applies were sured. The second party was held at the Memorial Hall and was given in honor of Washington's Birthday. The 'Gym' was gloriously decorated in flags and bunting. Suitable entertainment was provided and if e party was provided a howling success. Red hatchets were cut in different shapes and then matched for partners in the games. Dainty retreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The Sophomore Class has a girl's basket ball team, although they have had no games with out of town teams, they have played a few inter-class teams. The girls are Virtured Haworth cantain, Corene W. t. guard. Abore Strait, guard. Ruth B. Hahn jumping center, and Lovena Turner, running center.

We are striving to make our Sophomore Class the best that has ever entered or left G. H. S. Next year we are all hoping to be Juniors, and then watch us.

RUTH RIEGEL '23

NONS NSE BURNER
Modeled in Cay by Seward Keck

Sophomore Class Roll

Bass, Flossie Beanblossom, Verua Bordman, Leona Brown, Odella Byrd, Annabelle Crisler, Dorothy Deeter, Leona Dickey, Mary Drill, Gladys Eshleman, Velma Hahn, Ruth B. Hamilton, Lorene Haworth, Mildred Hawes, Hester Hoke, Esther Horlacker, Gladys Hufford, Fern Hughes, Ruby Hupe, Susan Hupman, Mildred Keefauver, Margaret Landis, Margaret Lohman,

Wilhelmina Longfellow, Thelma Ludy, Kathryn Lyons, Blanche McCabe, Mary McKee, Lucille ; Menke, Joanna Menke, Kathryn Meyer, Esther Miller, Marie 4, 1 Mills, Florence Neibert, Minnie Oda, Carrie Oda, Fairy Onkst, Esther Pease, Marie Peeden, Mildred Peffly, Thelma Puterbaugh, Bessie

Rank, Irene Reiber, Gladys Riegel, Ruth Riffle, Vesta Rowe, Emily Ruh, Helen Runner, Leslie Sharkey, Winona Snyder, Winifred Steinmetz, Kathryn Stone ock, Glalys Street Made Teegarden, Viola Turner, Lovena Vanata, Irene Warner, Ruth Weimer, Treva Weisenbarger. Martha

Wilt, Corene Yount, Norma Bailey, Byron Beutler, Clarence Black, Harry Bolinger, Donavan Booker, Galen Brooks, Claude Buchey, George Calderwood, A. R. Clark, Alfred Clopp, Harley Cole, Pierre Conning, Herbert Dangler, Sterling Deleplane, Earl Demorest, Kendric Dickey, Ralph Dunham, James Ganger, Kenneth Garrison, Paul Gessler, Guy Hartle, Byron

Hartle, Myron Hathaway, Tillman Henkaline, Stanley Herman, Al Hovatter, Rufus Hufnagle, Paul Hyer, Lowell John, Dick Keck, Seward Kern, Harry Lewis, Samuel Lephart, Harold Lynch, James Lytle, Howard Marker, Lester Martin, Eugene L. McEowen, John McGreevey, Paul Mendenhall, Roscoe Mergler, Clarence North, Leonard O'Brien, Robert Peiffer, Gerald Pierce, William Petry, Clinton Rhoades, Maurice Rush, John Schafer, Gerald Snyder, William Stentzel, Leroy Stephens, Ora Steffin, Walter Taylor, Clarence Teegarden.

Herschel Thomas, Charles Trick, Samuel Turner, Herbert Wilson, Larimer Wolf, John Thomas Martin, Robert 1. Wogaman, Martin

SOPHOMORE CLASS PICTURE

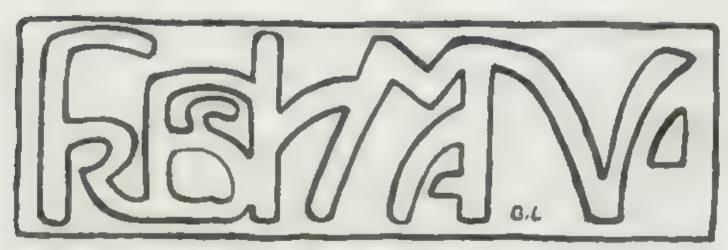

CLASS ORGANIZATION

W. D. Brumbaugh Treasurer

Myron Reck......Vice-President Howard Minnich . Secretary

Freshman Class History

"Te whit-Te Whit-Te whee," cried the saucy bird up in the tree. "Ah! me. The me," said the green "Freshie under the tree, I have to write the class history Well, let's see, there were one hundred says three of as who entered G. H. S. in the fall of 1920, the largest class ever known in the history of the school.

It is not only large in number, but just as great in ability. To prove this I'll tell you our class officers. Robert Currentson, President, Myren Reek, Vee President,

W. D. Brumbaugh, Secretary; and Howard Minnich, Treasurer.

We have one "shining light" in athletics, Myron Reck; however there may be some failed twicklings of other stars in the allerence in the near future. In both backwe are well represented by Ben ("becasen and join Winters and in basketbal by Howard Minnich. The ords next to be excluded a athletic shy the toys organized a basketbal term under the specified leavership of Miss beaus. At a meeting of the team Betty Ken the was unanimously chosen capture. So far, this group has succeed ed in winning a few games played with upper classmen.

Our class is also well represented in the High School orchestra, various clubs and in other branches of school athletics.

The social activities to date have been limited to a Hallowe'en party at the Memorial Hall where we had a splendid time. A pin cathod contest was one of the main tentities of the evening's entertainment, the pize of almost a piccolor was Eugene Kingly at as "Shirts. We were has energy to Coach Diske, Missifar, and Mr. and Mrs. Wainer. Tebrary 2 sea George Washington, Party was need at the North School Building where a very enjoyable time was had by all.

Our class colors are "peacock blue and gold" and the greatest hope of every loval "Freshie" is the time when these same colors was that so product over G. H. S. in her crief the most woncerful class that ever graduated from the pertals of Greenwille Web Calculated.

of Greenville High School.

M. Rosalie Dewyr, '24.

51

Freshman Class Roll

Albright, Lucile Albright, Thelma Archey, Alva Bailey, Alvaretha Beam, Mollie Beanblossom, Garnet

Emma Jane

Berkheimer, Biddle, Onda Brown, Margaret Brown, Pauline Clark, Emily Clark, Ilah Clopp, Daisy Cochran, May Condon, Opal Conning, Mayno Dewyr, Rosalie Drill, Edna DuBois, Edna Earhart, Velda Enos, Dorothy Flood, Ruth Foltz, Evaline Galbreath, Velma Halladay, Ruth Hartle, Edna Haves, Garnet

Huber, Marie

Judy, Ellen

Kern, Fave

Kerst, Mary

Kuns, Etie

Kemble, Betty

Hufnagle, Evalyn

Katzenberger, Grace

Kurz, Wilhelmina

Lephart, Echo

Lephart, Pearl

Light, Madge Livingston, Mary Longenecker,

Marvel

Lott, Mary Lytle, Audrey McCool, Lenore McFarland, Helen McGarvey, Rita Miller, Esther

Neff, Ruth Norris, Mildred Oliver, Mmerva Pence, Blanche

Resple Vera Real, Clara

Riggs, Gladys Rismiller, Freda

Roh, Marjorie Rvan, Elsie Schreel, Generose

Seman, Mina Shepherd, Treva Sheveley, Georgiana

Shiverdecker, May Snyder, Louise Southron, Bessie

Sparkling, Elenore Stocker, Bessie

Stoltz, Velma Teaford, Thelma

Voke, Mabel Ward, Anna Marie Wayman, Margaret

Weaver, Zelda Weis, Dolores

Young, Ethel Younker, Dorothy

Zell, Yula

Westfall, Marvel

Anderson, Von Bannister, Grant Barnett, Harold Beanblossom.

Rohert

Beanblossom, Roscoe Billingsley, Richard

Bidwell, Roy Brand, Oscar Brown, Edwin Brumbaugh, W. D. Clark, Frank Cole, Harvey

Cole, Norman Cox, Luther Crawford, Herbert Culbertson, Robert

Deeter, Ivan Dininger, Donald Folkerth, Edward Graf, Richard

Grossman, Karl Halley, Paul Haney, Harold

Hoffman, Robert Jeffries, Milton Jenkins, Lawrence

Jones, Rollin D. Kamons, Theodore Kern, Raymond Kirby, Arthur

Knoll, Eugene Landers, Karl Lenich, William Lephart, Chester

Marshall, Elvyn Martin, Eugene Mason, Elmer

Mathews, Donald

McKeon, Noel Miller, Glendon Minnich, Howard

Morton, Webster Nealeigh, Benjamin

Neville, Glen O'Brien, Francis

Patty, William Pearce, Myron Plessinger, Lloyd

Ramsey, Carrie Ratchford, Raymond

Reck, Myron Rogers, Tom

Russ, Glen Rush, William

Schafer J. C. Sellman, Wilbur Shields, Roy

Stocker, Karl Stocker, Earl M.

Straker, Joseph Strobel, Elmer

Strohaver, Robert Thomas, Jonas

Townsend, Ira Ungericht, James

Wade, Elmer Wenger, Gus Weybright, Edward

White, George Weibusch, Ralph Wills, William

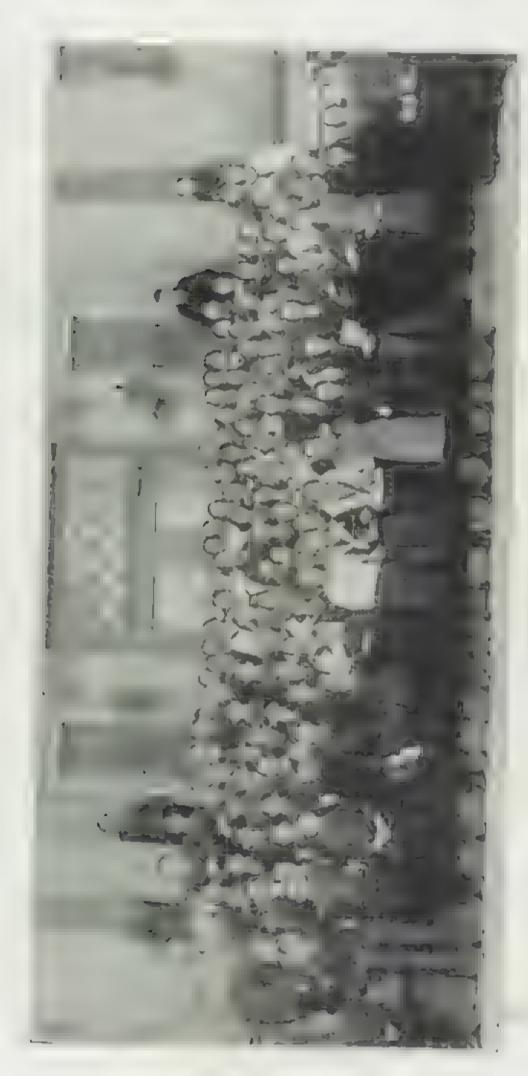

Wilson, Damon Winters, John

Winters, Lynn Witters Dan York, Lester

Young, Lester Zechar, Herbert

FRESHMAN CLASS PICTURE

CREANIZATIONS

Sociedad Castellana

I \ SOCIIDAD CASTELLANA EUL organizada in 1910 per Senoraa Lrout Li nom ire Sociedad Castellana tue derivado dei nombre dela aristociacia de España. La sociedad se reuneun martes si otro no

Pues que en annual se publi, a tan temprano y las actividade de la sociedad ya no han empezado, poco se puede decu acerca de edas. Esperamos tener muchos "bikes" a "weiner roasts" antes de que termine el ano escolar.

Enc Clab o gamzed rather late in the year, concerning its meeting you are now going to hear

Ray Keller was chosen as president,
To Lohman our dues for the year we would pay
While Kurz was selected to write about events
That their service was faithful we have evidence
The Club now can boast of an orchestra fine
Our progams no doubt will appear at sometime
The social activities have not yet begun,
But nevertheless we expect to have fun,
Before the year ends we leave one and all,
When summer has come and we hear pleasure's call.

MARYBESS WIEBUSCH '21 CATHARINE KATZENBERGER '21

CS

PHE CHIEF

High School Orchestra.

The orchestra is only an instrument for conveying music from one spirit to other spirits. The orchestra no mere makes the masse which it conveys than the te egraph wire makes the message which it conveys. The composer creates in him self the sympholy and the orchestra translates it from the notes on a slicet of paper to the soul of the hearer."

LYMAN ABBOTT.

There are orchestias celestral and orchestras terrestral but the Orcenville High School Orchestra is in a class of its own. It was organized the first week of school, and met for practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays, during the fifth period. Under the efficient direction of Miss Kew, a very interesting and problane years work has come to a close.

PIANIST

Laurene Hamilton

FIRST VIOLIN

Winona Sharkey Katherine Steinmetz Martha Weisenbarger Robert Hoffman Herbert Zechar

SECOND VIOLIN

Wilhelmina Kurz Madge Light Mary Livingston Richard Billingsley

CELLO

Mary McCabe

CATHARINE KATZENBERGER, '21

FLUTE

Generose Schreel

CORNET

Harold Weisenbarger

Myron Pearce

Kenneth Ganger

Howard Minnich

CLARINE

W D, Brumbaugh

Samuel Trick

Ernest Hughes

Jonas Thomas

SAXOPHONE

Gus Wenger

DRUMS

William Jobes

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

This year in the High School there was a demand for a smaller orchestra to play for the purare and High School and its Under Miss K. 2. supervision, this new orchestra was organized at 1.50 aw composed at Marcha Keinele, Done the Unique Kanad Martha Weisenbarger, violinists; Pauline Brown, piano; Catharine Katzenberger, clarinet; Forest Winters, cornet; Bob Ganger, trombone, and Bill Johes drums. This is the first time in the history of the G. H. S. that there have been two separate High School orchestras and, be a second the recreasing a maker of state at 8 taking orchestra work, it was necessary to have a smaller orchestra. Bob Ganger '21

MELTING POT

Girls' Clee Club

The Girls' Glee Club was started under the supervision of Miss Roberts who directed the Glee Club until 1919. Miss Crimm then accepted the teaders up until 1920. The Gree Club prespeted during the years 1930 and 1931 inder the splend durang in entit Miss Kelz.

This year we organized on October 8th, electing Lois Booker, President, Catharine Katzenberger, Secretary: Mirybess Wiebusch, Treasurer, and Wargaret Landis, Labrarian. The Club is composed of thirty members and we meet as a class every Friday afternoon. As we have not had Glee Crab pins for several years we decided to have them this year, choosing the design of a lyre.

We have not as yet appeared before an audience, but will do so a number of times before the year is over. We are now looking forward to a party when we are invited to be the guests of Miss Kelz ther hand on Washington Avenue. The Glec Club is planting to have many more social events before the year is over

Lois Booker '21

SOPRANO 1

Lois Booker Aletha Faust Ruth Hahn Laurene Ham Iton Doris Kerlin Margaret Landis Alice Strait Ruth Swartz Lovena Turner Ruth Warner Treva Weimer Corene Wili

SOPRANO II

Lucille Albright Mary Calderwood Helen Folkerth Bertha Kamons Catharine Katzenberger Margaret Keefauver Kathryn Steinmetz Winifred Snyder Martha Weisenbarger Norma Wilson

ALTO

Margaret Cooke Kathryn Ludy Mary McCabe Miss Kelz, Instructor Elsie Ryan Winona Sharkey Marybess Wiebusch Helen York, Pianist

The Varsity "G" Association

AST year at G. H. S., G's were awarded to all those who had participated in the required number of athletic games. At the close of the season, a banquet was given to all men who had won their G's and to the candidates for the team. It had, originally, been the plan to give a banquet at the end of the football, basket ball, and baseball season, but unavoidable circumstances arose which prevented any further banquets.

This year it was decided to have a banquet sometime during the school year and only those who had made their G's were to be invited. But, Mr. Drake, our new coach who has already changed many conventional athletic forms, about G. H. S., suggested that it would be better to form a G. Association. The purpose of this organization was for the improvement of athletics and sportsmanship. Mr. Drake's suggestion was immediately carried out. The first meeting was held January 18, 1921, and a committee composed of Stoltz, Reck and Jackson were appointed to draw up the constitution which was submitted and adopted at the next regular meeting. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Robert Stoltz, President: David Reck, Vice President; Earl Jackson, Secretary; and Gerald Peiffer, Treasurer.

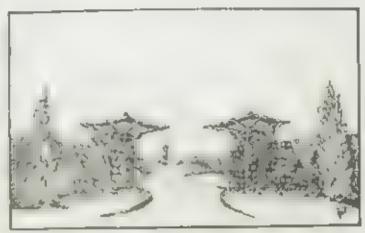

The organization has sixteen charter members. Membership is restricted to those who have been awarded G's by the Athletic Association. Those graduating will remain honorary members, and will be permitted to take part only in the social activities.

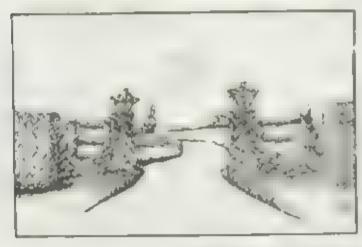

BILL JOBES.

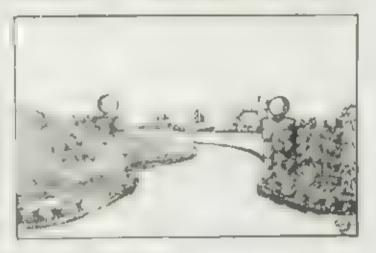

SKETCHES SUBMITTED BY RAY KELLER

December, 15th, 1920,

Mr. Minor McCool, Greenville, Ohio Dear Sir:

If you consider that the thing would be proper, the Trustees of the Greenville Country Club would like to offer through you to the members of the Art Class a prize of $5.00 for the best suggestion or drawing of an appropriate entrance to the Country Club grounds.

for the information of contestants wish to state that the character of the fence on either side of the gate-way will be hedge, that the Club House itself which will be located back about a quarter of a mile from the road will be of colonial type and that foot-bridges, pergolas, arbors, etc. throughout the grounds will be of the rustic type. The entrance should be suitable for Country Club purposes and the arch idea is not desired. The ideas submitted should not contemplate much cost. The entrance way will be somewhat recessed from the line of road fence.

It is of course understood that our Board of Trustees would be the judge of the winner of the contest.

Should you deem it advisable to submit this proposition to your art students, we will be very glad for their co-operation.

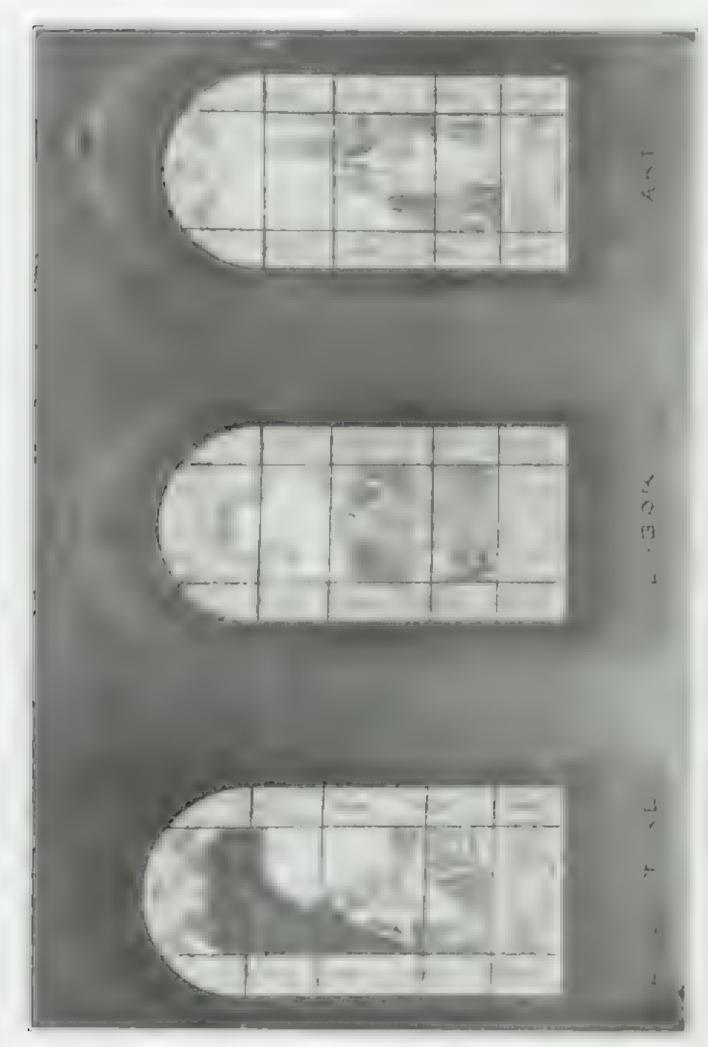

Yours truly,

GUY C. BAKER, President, Greenville Country Club.

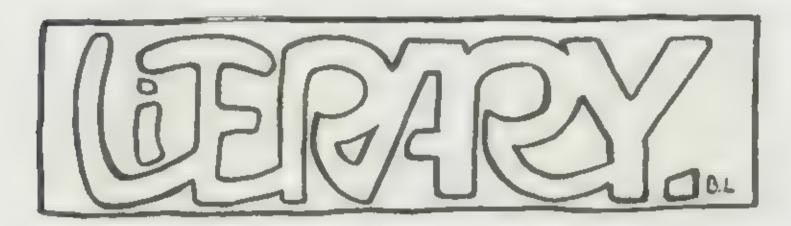

VENETIAN WINDOWS ABOAF FOYER STOCKAR WE MURIAL HALL

Ye Old Treasure Chest.

Richard Harte, known to his boy friends as Dick, was fond of collecting old books and manuscripts, in fact, this was a hologonias.

One day be nappened to pass as not, and seeming consignificant bookshop in one of the lesser streets of New York. He mine he well went inside, for he had unearthed many very old and valuable treasures in such places.

The shopkeeper asked, "Is there something for you, sir?"

"Have you any old books?" replied Dick.

"Just come to the back." Dick went and started booking through a stack of old books.

"Ah!" he exclaimed, "Here is an old copy of 'Beowulf.' It's just what I have been searching for I must have it' He then par chased the volume and left the shop.

When he arrived it his home, he locked for sign it ires of former owners, but could ascertain none. He saw some spots where crasures had been made, and he surmised that the signatures had been in those places. In our place he saw the numbers 10.2, and he surmised they were the date of printing. "This cost ally is old?" he exclaimed, and then settled down to read. He had read about fifty pages when he discovered a letter, apparently velowed with a general settled.

"I wonder what's in it?" he pondered, turning it over. "Ah! here it sixs, 'Ye Who Fines Hus, Open.' Well, I believe I'll do it.

When' some letter. Now I'll read it. Here goes."

This is what he read: "To Ye Who Finds This:—I, one of ye first settlers of ye Datch colon, or Nov Amster Im. have buried my silver, and all moneys belon ing to me, on ye island which has off ye coast. This island is called Long Island. Ye map is in ye missive, also. I buried ye articles in fear of ye Indians.

John Hood."

"Now for the map?" exclaimed Dick. "Oh! here it is. I can see exactly where the tre sare is buried. I know where those trees and that rock are. Gosh! this is great. I believe I'll call George and have him come over, so that we can make arrangements to go after that treasure tomorrow." He picked up the telephone and called George Edwards, his cham, and asked him to come over siving he had something very important to tell him. Then he placed the telephone on the table and said, "Well, he's coming. I believe I'll look at this map again," and he picked up the map and studied it intently for a few minutes. "There's the doorbell, I'll go see if it is he." He opened the door and George was outside.

"Hello, Dick, what's wrong?" asked George.

"Hurry in, and you'll find out," ans vered Dick, pushing him into the house.

"What's the rush?" asked George.

"Wait until you see what I have to show you, and you'll know what it is," shouted Dick, jubilantly. "Read this letter and look at this map," and he handed them to George.

It took George only a short time to read the letter, and he then looked at the map. Then he looked up an I said, "Say, this is luck. Let's go over there tomorrow. I know where all those marks are."

"I can go, and I know where all those marks are myself. We'll need a pick and shovel, though," answered Dick.

"I'll furnish a pick, and you bring a shovel. I'll be over at seven o'clock in the morning. Good-bye."

"I'll be ready, Good-bye," rejoined Dick.

The next morning. George, with a pick over his shoulder, arrived at Dick's home at the appointed time, and Dick, who was carrying a shovel, met him at the gate. When they arrived at Long. Island, they went immediately to the spot where the hunt must begin.

"Well, here we are at the starting point," said Dick, pulling the map from his pocket. "Find how many paces it is to that tree." George paced that distance, and then shouted, "Twenty-nye,"

"That's point number two," exclaimed Dick, excitedly, "Now fifty paces directly east."

George walked that distance, and then exclaimed, "Here's the rock that it gives on the map."

"Now turn almost toward the south west and face that large maple," ordered Dick. "Now walk twenty five paces toward it, and then stop and mark the spot. I'll bring the tools."

He brought the pick and the shovel, and they started excitedly to work. They had been digging frantically for about half an hour, and had made an excavation about three feet in depth, when George breathlessly exclaimed, "I struck something with the pick, Dick,"

"Go slowly then," replied Dick, and they worked more carefully around the edges. In about ten minutes more, they had unearthed a rather large chest covered with rusty metal. It was rather heavy, but they managed to get it out of the excavition, They both examined it carefully, and then Dick said, "The lock's rusty, so it will be easy to open it."

have discovered a buried treasure. Come on, let's open it."

treasure within.

"Bricks!" they both gasped, and then collapsed.

"Gosh!" exploded George, "It doesn't seem possible that we

They soon broke the lock, and raised the hd to gaze at the Roscoe Mendenhall, '23.

FAT HELMAN ON BOOSTER DAY

The Poet

He sat and sighed and thought and thought. He could not think of what to write Then looked toward his ink,

But still he could not think.

He dipped his pen into his ink And marked upon his paper, And then got up and walked around, Then went back to his labor.

He thought it was too bad: He looked around and downward glanced, And then a certain brilliant thought, Descended on this lad.

> He grabbed a pencil and his pad And then he made a note, He took his pen, began to write, And this is what he wrote.

"I could not write a poem today, I know there's no use trying, I could not write a poem, I say, If I were dead, or dying."

ELSIE STUBBS '22.

The Last Will and Testament of a Senior

In the Name of God, Amen

I, a Senior, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make and publish this day my last will and testament in order, is justly as I may, to distribute among succeeding men, my interests in the world.

And first, that part of my interest which is known in the assembly and recognized in dist-covered volumes of the book case as my property, he ng in considerable and of rene account, I make no account of it in this, my will.

My right to live, it being a life estate, is not at my disposal, but these things expected, all else in the world. I now proceed to devise and bequeath:-

If I leave to the Freshman exclusively, but only for the life of their childhood, the duidelons of the fields and the duisy thereof, with a right to play among them fockly, according to the cistom of children, warning them at the same time against this less. And I devise to the children, the yellow shores of creeks and the golden sames beneath the waters thereof, with the diagon ties that skim the sarface of said waters and the olders of the willows that dip into said waters and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees. I also bequeath to them the sticks and branches that fall from said giant trees that they may play horse with them.

TEM II. And I leave to the Sophomores the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the night with the train of the milky way to wonder at, with all these privileges, subject never theless to the rights hereinafter granted to Jamors. And I give to can Sophomore the right to choose a star that shall be his, and I direct that the Sophamore shall always remember the name of that star after he has learned and forgotten astronomy.

Commons where one in a play ball and all the snow-clace hills where one may coast, and all the streams and the porces where one may skate, and all the meadows with their clover blossoms and their but terfiles, and all the woods with their squiries and birds, and all echoes and strange noises, and all the distant places which may be visited, together with the adventures therein found, to have and to hold the same for the period of their boyhold. I do give to said boys each his own place at home at night with all pictures that he may see by gizing down the register into the burning wood or coal in the turnace, these I do give him without bindrance and without any incumbrance of cares.

ITEM IV. To the Juniors, I devise their imaginary world with whitever they may need, as the red, red roses by the wall, the big yellow moon in the sky, together with the sweet strumming of a ukelele and the sweet chug chug of a Ford as the case may be, or aught else they may desire to adequately express to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

Freshmen, Sophomores, or Juniors, the volumes of Barns and of Shakespeare, and of other poets, if there are others and to the same I leave precious memories of the good times they have had, including the bob sled party of 1200 and the Hallowe'en party of 1219, together with the rate, rate knowledge they have acquired during their four years in this exceptional high school.

(Signed) Lois Booker, '21.

Witnesses: Judge Culbertson, Hon. Robt. E. Ganger Squire Weisenbarger.

Revenge is Sweet

It was Monday evening. There were strange quings in the old O. k Grove barn. There were no oaks. A meeting was being held by the Chickasaw Indian Club. There were no Indians. This club consisted of two members, all small boys between ten and eleven years of age. They had met to consider a plan for revenge for an indignisy heat to on their heads. At last they agreed upon a plan, and two cark shadows stealth a approached the school house, entered by the back door, and upon each seat placed a bent pin.

This was a strange school. Usually the pupils formed a line, nurched in, and stood by their desks. The teacher would count "One, two, three." At one, they faced the rising sun, or where it is supposed to rise. At two they sat down, and at three they faced around.

Luesday morning dayned bright and cheerful. Every one came early to play games. No one entered the school building. At ast the time came for school to take up. The left rang, and every one got in line. In they came and each stood by his seat.

"One"—They faced the rising sun.
"Two"—Whow!—Every one arose.

HAVING acquired the age of an old maid and having accumulated a modest fortune, decided in the year 1940 to go on a sight seeing trip through the states, and to visit some old friends; consequently I started for the South by train.

At first, I contented myself by looking out of the windows and watching the country and the telegraph poles whizz by. When we stopped at a little country town, I was amused to see a fat, old, bearded farmer stop his mule and hurriedly jump out and shoulder a trunk from the one horse wagon and carry it to the train. Following him came a rather slim, dark haired man. The plump one gave the trunk to the express agent, then turned and clasped the other's hand warmly and said in a fuerulous voice, "I wish I was a goin' with you. Be sure and take care of yourself; don't fall in the ocean."

I felt that the scene was too personal for me to watch and turned my head just in time to see a fall, fashionably dressed lady seat herself by my side.

"Sad, isn't it?" she murmured, nodding toward the two men, outside on the platform, "The slim one is going to Europe to teach his new ideas in caricature. The other runs some kind of stock farm, a mule ranch I think." When she had delivered herself of this speech, she rubbed her eyes affectedly with a lacey, perfumed handkerelnef, blew her nose and then violently powdered it.

"Do you mean James and Ray Keller?" I stammered. She or opposither vanity case in surprise and said. "Yes, why how do you know them?"

I made a face at her and she immediately recognized me. "Now Lors Lohman," I said. What is your occupation? You look very prosperous."

"Ah" said Lois, "I still live in Greenville. Shortly after grad-nation I established a beauty shop exclusively for the high school pupils and now have a fushing beamess. I am just now taking my first vacation since 1921. I am going to Washington to see Doris Kerlin, who is now a member of Congress."

I was saved from expressing my surprise by the entrance of the conductor. As he took our tickets he spoke cooly to Lois, then passed on.

"That," said Lois coldly, "is Paul Martin. He scarcely recoggirls to paint, powder and primp."

Our discourse was again interrupted by the entrance of a man selling new papers and magazines. We both purchased one, and I was about to devote my time to my magazine, when something about the agent attracted me as familiar, causing me to exclaim, "Isn t that Laylin Wriver." Sure enough it was, but, remembering his pashtulness, we call not stop linn on his return trip and he did not recognize us.

The cover of my magazine was very attractive, but what caught my attention was treatment cement in large type at the bott most the page "Rel non-effice Soul to the Bode." by Cathaine Katz enbarger. Coming in the fall issue. Don't miss it.

When I spoke to Lois about it, she said, "Oh yes, she is considered a great writer, so deep you know, but here is a match for it." She then real from her news, open. "Herry Calbertson, a young and tary or to he seet sail for Malan, where he aims to teach the ir hab itants the virtues of the mind and repentance." Lois and I agreed that Harry got his inspiration from "Macbeth."

"But tell me," interposed Lois, "What ever became of Vera Hufford and Dassie Eaton?"

Ah, I could easily answer those questions, "For a short while Verawas a private futer for a rich man sel ildren, making a specialty of teaching Latin. To ching soon lest its charm for her, however and she accepted a position as a chorus girl in "The Follies."

"A few years after graduation, Dassie married that country fellow—I can't think of his name just now, and they live on a small farm and grow vegetables for market. They sometimes peddled them thru the country, and when they did, Dassie took charge of the pocket book."

"You remember Bessie Huffman, don't you? Well, she became an expert book-keeper and was one of the first women to set up a book keeping and accounting astem. She has a system which she said was more simple than our old school system of "Rowe's." last at that time the conductor called the name of my station and I had to say goodbye.

A whiskered cabman immediately hailed me and promised to take me to the best hotel in town. When we reached the hotel, he said shortly, "Two dollars."

S

THE CHIEF

I looked at him and then said, "Excuse me, but aren't you

Bus Livingston?"

He confusedly stammered that he was. He told me that David Reck owned most of the cab service, and that he was also mayor of the town.

After a while, I asked him what I owed him and he absent mindedly said, "Fifty cents, please."

As I entered the hotel, I instantly noticed the clerk at the desk. As I started to register, I innocently said, "This pats one in mind of old times, doesn't? Jumor thetoricals, I mean." Of course, I had recognized him as Fat Helman.

He told me that he and his wife, Esther Bolich, own and run the hotel. He expounded so on the virtues of the "none such other," she called the hotel, that I thought I should never escape,

That evening, on my way to dinner, a very showily dressed young lady called me by name. I was astonished to recognize her as I sther Bowman. She was owner of a group of moving picture shows and was just going her rounds visiting them. She immediately suggested that I go to the show with her, assuring me that I was in for a treat. I was rather surprised at her taking me to a religious show, but soon learned the reason when the tau diar tace of I sther Hughes appeared on the screen in the roll of "The Angel of the Slums". Miss Bowman explained to me that I sther had decided she could do as much good in life in that way, as by marrying or by being a missionary.

The film was very toaching, causing a flashily dressed woman by my side to sob in sympathy with the characters. I turned to her and instantly recognized her as Voldred French. She told me in secret that she was planning to run for the presidency on the Social ist ticket.

Esther Bowman told me that "Tubby' Swartz, the famous soprano, had condescended to sing for them the night before as a special feature.

I was yet to have another surprise, for we went from the show to a fine restaurant, where, for a special attraction, they had a clever contortionist, and clown. We immediately recognized him as I lvin Murphy.

During a sudden fall in the laughter, I heard a voice say in a shrill whisper, "That was Elvin Murphy, wasn tit?" On looking around I saw at an opposite table. Thelma Young, Mary Miller, Gilbert Lease and Bob Martin. Mary and Thelma tolu us that they were running a millinery store and often posed for the exhibition of their hats. Bob and Gilbert were ranning a grocery, Gilbert furnishing the fresh vegetables and Bob managing the store. They said they often came to the city on business.

I remained in this town a few days looking up historical sights. When passing the public square one day, I was attracted by a man's hourse cries. People were surrounding him on all sides. Lorgetting that carrosity once killed a cit, I drew near. One large man and a small one stood upon the curb. A fat woman, who wore a large stripped skirt, a pink waist, and a paneake hat, confided to me in a fould whisper that it was all a take. She used to go to school with both of the boys and knew them. The large man, Mark Winters, was selling a shore preventer, in the for n of pills. He announced that if any one in the audience hid used them, he wished lum to step forward. Bob Kolp came forward and testified that since he had began taking the pills, his wife was usually in a good humor and said that she could rest in peace at night. As the woman by my sice kept muttering, "It's a take: it's a take." I scrutinized her more closely and recognized her as Loren's Mendenhall. She told me that she had given her husband, Freeman Warner, some of the snore preventative, but that he still shored as loughy as ever, and in consequence she was getting poorer every day, for he did nothing but sit around and snore while she took in washings, Lasked about Dorothea and learned that she and Sarah Ross had an art stidio in Chicago. Dorothea punted portraits while

Sarah posed for artists as a model.

A few days later, I boarded a train for Tampa, I londa. While on my way, I read a startling account in a Greenville, paper of how Adah Fox and Adrian Small had sued Paul Younker for breach of promise. Both girls had taken advantage of leap year and had proposed to Paul. He had been too coarteous to refuse either one, but had planned for both to meet him at the court house at the same place and time. Fach girl was surprised to see the other. They had a friendly chat until they grew confidential and told why they were there. Then they had a hair pulling scere but were finally released in pail by Sheriff Harry Haworth. They were finally released however, because of the pleadings of the sheriff's wife, nee June Tillie Vera Pearce.

While in Florida, I visited Ione McKeon and her husband. They owned a large orange grove. One day while out walking, I noticed a man leaning against a tree and smoking a pipe. He did not hear me coming and aroused with a snort when I called him by name. He told me the South had been the ruination of him. He said that he had grown very lazy. He had become prosperous through having married a southern widow who owned a house and a couple of orange groves. He pointed out one of his workers to me and asked me if I recognized him. Just then the worker's basket of oranges slipped, causing him to swear faiently in Spanish. Yes, it was Byron Lamb. Forest had hired him as a detective to discover which of the workers were stealing from him.

When Heft Horida, I started across the Gulf of Mexico on a sliip. I was very much surprised to learn that Ralph Erisman was the captain, I heard him lauded as one of the most worthy sea cap-tims. The first night on board, I was lired out on occk by the sound of an orchestra. I was shocked to see who the leader was, but when I recalled how at school Bob Ganger was very musical, hows rprise abated. Bill Jobes was in the orchestra with his drum, and he also played all the little "extras." Lors Booker and Josephine Jones were hired soloists and so charmed me with their interpretative singing that I lorg of to get seasiek. We had been on the water a good meny cays when the boat began to leak and we were compelled to take to the life boats. When we left the orchestra was playing "Nearer My Good of Thee" to a ragtime time. I later heard that all were saved. We orifted about a while and their were taken a board by the ship "Reland," named after our celebrated dress designer, Reland Schreel, who was then in Paris with her assistant and model, Martha Mong, creating a demand for American styles. The ship was owned by Reland's husband, Paul Youst.

On the ship, I shared a room with an old classmate, Cleo Benien. She had spent a couple of years in China and wis giving lectures on the great opportunities China, afford for mission iries, She is a diliat Op il hox, who was running a two handre cacre farm had almost decided to be a mission irv. She thought it too bid that our own American women were corrupting society. Dorotly Coppock for instance, had been in irried and divorced three times. Her last husband was Carl. Fox, whom she divorced on the grounds of non-sapport. However Carl was and santed, and a few days later an anasomeenic of the marriage of Miss Margaret Cooke to Carl.

Fox appeared in the society column.

Later we landed at Galveston, Texas. I learned that Mary Calderwood hid married a rancher and lived near. When I reached the ranch, a woman at the house told me that E. J. Colville lived there and that his wife's former name was Mary Calderwood. It made me rather giody, for I remembered how Mary and E. J. had never wastel any love on each other at school. The young woman eved me sharply and saddenly asked me if I remembered Heanor Iohannes. She had come west with Mary preparatory to founding a school on manners for young girs. I visited for some time with Mary and Heanor. They told me that Helen Johannes was the community nurse of that district. Eleanor broke the news that Edward Stetten had founded an old bachelors' society in New York and that Larnest Hugnes one of New York's greatest lawyers, Bob Stoltz, a retired toothall veteran, and Lorest Winters, an eloquent political speaker, were a few of the tried and true members.

From Texas I went to California by aeroplane. I was not surprised to learn that Harvey Rush was the avoitor. He had a thrilling story to tell of his trip to Mars. He had made his own machine and, to tell the truth, it was not as had as it looked.

In California I visited my old friends. Mary Boyer and Mary Buchanan. Mary Boyer made a fortune by selling to a local mov-

Ing picture show him, her secret, of how she grew long evelables. Belgi in Rese wis living with her and was trying to perfect her experiment on a certain fluid which she hrinly be reved would serve not only as a beautifier but as a veritable fountain of youth. I, with the rest of the world, am waiting breathlessly for its perfection. I told Mary that I was shocked to term to at she had not married, and she said very absent mindedly, "Marriage! What's that?"

Mary Boyer took me in her private aeroplane to Colorado. While there, I saw a slim, red haired woman running a sight seeing bus. I later learned that she was Clara Meyers, who had accumulated a fortune and was then thanking of retiring or perhaps of working as a mechanic. Clarictold me that I thel Ockslager was a teacher in one of their large acroamatic schools, and I cente Mink with had eloped with a once-upon-a-time duke and was living in Europe.

My next stopping place was at Des Moines, Iowa. In a large office building I saw on a door the name 1 ditti Moeller. I received permission to interview her and was soon in the presence of a mannishly dressed woman. She was rather contased to see in close sconforgot it in telling me how she accepitally assovered that to red ginger and a little. Red. Seal, syc to water was equivale at to gisoline. in the running of Fords. However she swore me to secrecy. She called her discovery "Excel Gasso." To divert my attention, she asked me it I had visited their the state asylum. She in isted that I should see it. While there I hears a high querulous voice sing ag. "When I was a maiden, a maiden, a maiden; when I was a maiden, a maiden was I," I shuddered and the warden who observed my fear, said "Oh, he is not a dangerous character. If I understand, he belonged to a New York Bachelor Clab and had such a haro time staying an old bachelor that it uphalanced list mind. A queer circ. His name is Earl Jackson."

Later I went to Wisconsin. While in Madison I heard that Professor Kemble, President of the University of Wisconsin was to give the graduation at Iress. Ernest Neville was a professor of ath letter in the same university and Helen York, winner of the world's athletic championship, was the girls' athletic trainer.

Theard while visiting in Michig in that Ethel King carried mail by airoplane over Lake Michigar. In ether one day and she told me that only once had she had an accident, and then she and her plane had fallen into Lake Michigan. I hat reminded her to tell me that Lawrence Townsend was living in Michigan and was onc of their record apple growers.

It was not, however, until I reached Greenville that I heard anything of the rest of our G. H. S. class. I arrived just in time to hear the memorable address of Hon. Bertha Glessner, founder of the Anti-Pop Society

Norma Wilson were being featured in her paix, "Love's Revenge," This caused me to inquire about Arno Teitord. "Oh, didn't you ever heir!" Lianiti asked surprisedly. "Beulan won first prize in the News Pyrimid Beauty Contest nineteen voirs ago and then decided to enter the movies. This mide Arno very angry, yet he was determined to win her over by some means—riches, I guess, "A short time afterwards he robbed a bank at Dayton, was captured and tried for the murder of the banker. He was not convicted and got off with a fifteen year's jail sentence."

I purchased a Greenville "Commoner" of a small boy and to my surprised, found that I lorence Vance was the editor, and owner and that Neva Michael was her assistant. A glaring headline announced that a prominent druggist of Greenville, committed suicide early on I riday morning. The article expluned that Mr. Lloyd Weisenberger was subject to fits of melancholy over his financial affairs. While statering from such an attack he took rat poison, He was taken to the city hospital and placed under the cire of the head narse, Hazel We wer, but the poison soon completed its work. His remains were to be placed in the Greenville Cemetery. Poor "Nig". I threw the paper down in disgust, but as I did so the headline, "Just Retarned from Paris," aftricted my attention. The account was as follows: Miss Marybess Wiebisch, has just returned from Paris to visit with her parents. Miss Wiebusch is a musician of unasual ability and has been giving a series of musical fetes in company with Pierre Pierrot, her accompanist, to whom it is rumored she is engiged. Greenville should be proad of sach genius as Miss Wiebusch. She is a graduate of the 1921 H. S. class.

Ah me, such is life.

NELLIE DUNHAM, '21.

Seniors Farewell Address.

OUR score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new school building, constructed of brick and dedicated to the proposition that all bricks are created equal, Now we are engaged in our final examinations, testing whether all studies or any study can long endure. We have come to partake of that examination as a final test for those who spent five months here in teaching our class. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense, all can not concentrate, all can not prevaricate, all can not graduate with our class. Beder men, he no and dead, who struggled here, have present cated more than our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what our class did here. It is for you, the remain-At , rather to be definited to the work which we who strumwed here bave thus far so nobly advanced. It is for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us-that from our teachers we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that these proffs shall not have tried in vain, and that this school, under God, shall have a new school building, and that the power of the teacher, for the teacher, and by the teacher, shall not perish from this pile of bricks.

I thank you.

ROBERT MARTIN

Discarded.

The old, old sweater hung on a nail,
Fading and fading, then growing quite pale,
The pockets were sagging and getting so torn,
And yet the old thing would still keep me warm
One day while in use, it got ripped on a tack
So now it is thrown away, not to come back.

Lois BOOKER

In the Dentist's Chair.

The dentist's room
Is a nasty old place
He puts you in a chair,
And prys open your face.

Then blocks your teeth. If av far apart And tells you to gently Swallow your heart.

With teeth all around And tools everywhere. Nothing is settled, Not even your hair.

After much digging And prying around, He informs you that Only six must be crowned. H'ith six to crown
And nine to pll,
You calmly sit down,
And swallow the pill

He gets all his tools,
And begins to grind
Until you think
He's out of his mind.

After many hours of torture And you think he's nearly dine You hear him mutter, "Well, I've finished one!"

And thus you set In that awful plight Until you wish That you could fight

At last the work is hnished, And he's done all that he can, But as you leave the office. He says, "Please call again." SAMUEL TRICK '23

School Days.

We started to school 'neath September's bright sun, And all were rejoicing that school had begun. We came when the autumn leaves golden and brown, From boughs of the maple come fluttering down. We plowed the deep snow drifts with laughter and shout With never a wish for the school to be out. But now the bright flowers and bees happy hum Proclaim school is over; vacation has come.

The woods once clothed in bright vellow and gold, Were stripped by cruel winter and left bare and cold. But now they are wearing the summer's bright green. The bare naked branches no longer are seen. All nature seems ever upon us to smile, From meadow and woodland, as mile after mile, We ramble and search for the sweetest wild flowers,——For now school is over; vacation is ours.

HOWARD LYTLE, '23.

Good English Week.

There's pumpkins in the corn field, There's apples on the grass; Let' all get out our English books, 'Tis good English week at last.

We'll teach ourselves and foreigners,
The right way to pronounce and spell,
The words of that great language,
Of the land we love so well.

Though we travel in many strange lands, And many tongues we speak; Of all other memories, great or small, Let's remember Good English Week.

Though I'll never be a poet,
I can learn to pronounce and spell,
So please excuse my English,
Though I tried to write it well.

James A. Dunham '23.

The Storm

The bird flew 'cross the downcast sky,
The lightning flashed, the wind blew high;
All waifs of earth to shelter did scuttle,
And into houses people did huddle.
There were groans, prayers and some lamentations
Some cursed, some blessed the whole of creation

While the wind louder grew, and treesdid crack From their old foundations, and all was awack. Then the rain came down in flashing torrents; I'll the earth gleamed like a silvery orient. Then the rain hushed, the world did shine, And into the sky flashed a rainbow divine.

NELLIE DUNHAM

Just Weather.

'Smatter with the weather
Or perhaps the weather man,
With winter an' fall together
And spring so soon again?

We've sidden no old bob sleds, And skated almost none! Felt more like makin' garden 'Neath the ever shinin' sun! These teachers keep us workin,"
Jus' sif we'd really had
A jolly winter's shirkin'
With a purse apiece from dad.

A lot of nerve, I'd call it,
To hold snow feathers high,
Us cravin' here to maul it!
'Snough to make one cry.

Well, helper of the weather chart Keep i' tup, your mighty clever, But Groundhog stayed in from the start We're in for summer weather.

WILHELMINA LOHMAN '23.

The Dilemna of a Spaniard

Characters: Old Light-Wad a gentleman looking for cheap labor. Young Pancho Diez a Spaniard who knows a little English. Bob Pierce a young fellow who uses much slang. Frank Watkins a nephew of Light-Wad, and a chum of Bob. Mildred Moore—Bob's fiancee.

ACT I. SCENE I.

Time-November, 1920.

Place-A Street in New York.

(Enter Bob and Frank, smoking cigarettes. Bob: 'Say, Frank, d'ja know I got a new girl?'

Frank: "Hm! Oh, joy, poor fish, you get a new one every Enter Pancho, fresh trom Spain, who sneaks up behind Bob and Frank to learn more English.)

Bob: "Say boy, she's sure some kid."

Mildred pisses by but notices neither. Bob looks amized a Bob: "There she goes now; but hang it, she didn't see me."

Frank: "Oh, you poor fish, she's jest vampin'ya. But she ain't a bad lookin chicken at that."

Pancho (aside): "Feesh cheecken,—I weel remember zose words." (Exit)

Scine II. Tight-Wad's apartment.

(Enter Pancho.)

Pancho: "I do not see the Senior Tight-Wad. I am sure zis is zee right address." I wondair eef I can find heem. Caramba! Here hee ees now. Enter Boo and I rank. Oh, it ees ze Senior Feesh."

Bob: "Who's this bird?"

Pancho: "Alas, Senior, you make ze grande meestake. My name ees Diez."

Frank: "Oh, he must be the new servant that Unk's got." Pancho: "Unk, bird,—I I weel remember zot too."

(Enter Tight-Wad.)

Frank: "Say, Unk, can't ya gimmie five more dollars on my allowance this week?"

Fight,: "Five dollars! Have you got the gimmies too? They're worse than the flu."

Frank: But, Unk-"

Fight.: "No buts about it. I won't give you a cent more. (Notices Pancho). Who is this?"

Pancho: I am ze new servant you ordair from ze agie, agie, what you call him?''

Tight.: "Oh, this is my new servant. Frank, show him his duties. I have some business to attend to." (Fxit.)

Frank: "Let's get even with old Tight-Wad! D'ja say Bob?"

Bob: "How?"

Frank: "I'll show ya. (To Pancho, pointing to the cat lying on the bed.) What's this?"

Pancho. "Yo no se Senior what ees?"

Frank, "That is water? Water! Get that now?"

Pancho: "You call beem wat-air? I will remembair zat."

I ration. "And that (pointing to kettle) is a kettle."

Pancho: "Oh, ket-tle!"

Bob: "I see, Frankie, old boy!"

Frank: (pointing to bed.) "And that is wood. See?"

Pancho: "You call heem wood."

Frank: "And what is that?" (pointing to Bob's head.) Pancho: "Zat is wood, no?"

Frank (laughingly): "He's got you right, Bob. No, that is dishes. Do you know what 'wash' means?''

Poncho: "Si, Senior."

Frank: "Here comes old Tight. Let's beat it." (Exit.)

Pancho: "Water-tair, ket-tle, wood, dishes,—I will remembair zoze."

(Enter Tight-Wad.)

Tight.: "Did he show you all of your duties?"

Pancho: "Si, Senior."

Tight.: "I don't see anything. Get the water and put it in

Pancho: "Put ze watair in ze kettle." (grabs cat and puts it in the kettle.)

Tight.: "Hey, wat ya trien to do?"

Pancho: "You tell me to put ze wattair in ze kettle, no?"

Tight.: "That's not water. That's a cat. I'll do that. You get in the wood. The fire has gone out "Pancho pamps in beda

Tight .: "Hey, how do you get that way?"

Pancho: "You tell me to get in ze wood, no?"

Tight : "No! I didn't tell you to get in bed. Go get some fish for supper and a chicken for dinner tomorrow."

Pancho: "Si, Senior." (Exit.)

Tight .: "Good-night, what's the matter with that fellow." (Walks the floor.)

(Enter Pancho with Bob and Mildred.)

Poncho: "I find zem just outside ze door."

Tight.: "I told you to get a fish and a chicken and you brought these."

Bob: "What is the meaning of this?"

Mildred: "Yes, this fellow came and told us that you wanted us for dinner and for supper."

Pancho: "I hear zee othair gentleman call you ze poor feesh, and she ze cheeken, so I bring zem."

(Enter Frank.)

Boh: "High, Frank, what brings you here? Meet my fiancee, Miss Mildred Moore and Frank Watkins, my friend."

Tight.: "Well, since you are here, you might as well stay. Say, Frank, if you'll learn how to speak good English, I'll raise your allowance five dollars every week."

Frank: "Thanks, Unk-- I--

Tight .: "Pancho, go wash the dishes while I talk."

Pancho: "I wash ze dishes? Caramba!"

Tight.: "Yes, wash the dishes! How many times do I have to tell you?"

Mildred (to Bob): "I will marry you tomorrow, if you will promise to speak good English."

(Pancho gets soap and starts to massage Tight-Wad's head.)

Tight.: "Quit that!"

Pancho: "You no tell me to wash ze deeshes?" Tight.: "That isn't dishes. That's my head."

Pancho: "Alas! I tink I do not know Eengliesh as well as I tink."

Tight.: "Frank, I'll give you a dollar more a week if you'll teach this fellow good English, and (to Pancho) I'll give you a dollar more a week if you learn it quickly."

Pancho: "Caramba! I shall learn eet queek so I can get ze cheeken of my own." (Curtain)

RICHARD JOHN. EUGENE MARTIN.

MODELED IN CLAY BY RAY KELLER

The Basket Ball Tournament at Delaware.

The Delaware trip was planned from the beginning of the basketball season, not only from the team's stand point but also from the schools, whose wonderful patronage made this trip possible.

Much to the disappointment of the school the team left on the six thirty-five, an hour or so earlier than the usual "getting up time." The day began with the train over an hour late but this was soon forgotten in the pleasure of the trip.

There were many teams, from all over the southern part of Ohio, in the station in Columbus. There were four from Darke County: Arcanum, Brauford, Ansonia, and Greenville. We only time in touch with a small part of the eighty-seven teams participating in the tournament.

Due to the generosity of Mr. Drake our team was splendialy entertained at his Traternity house in Columbus. All the fellows in this way got a taste of real college lite and learned much that will benefit them in later years when they start to college.

After taking dinner at the Fraternity house they were shown all over the college grounds, and met many old triends who were attending school there.

They left Columbus for Delaware at four thirty and arrived there at six and were stationed at the Union House. This was what seemed to be the beginning of good luck as most of the teams were stationed in hotels with two double rooms to a team. How they managed to sleep will always remain a mystery.

In the evening the coaches of all the terms assembled in the I dward's Gymnasium to decide who their opponents should be for the first games.

Our team drew a "buy" the first round, Bradford the second, and the winner of the Hihards-Delaware game in the third.

As our game was to be played at five o'clock the team was at liberty to spend the day as they chose. The atternoon was chiefly spent in sleep preparatory to the evening games while the Coach sized up our opponents.

When two o'clock came our team was in high spirits. Several of the Greenville people attenuing. Ohio Weslev in assisted us in the cheering.

The line up for the game was Paul Martin and Myers Clark forwards. Bob Stoltz and Bob Jenkinson guards. Bob Coppess center, with Gerald Peiffer substituting for Martin.

Myers Clark led the scoring for Greenville making seven points while Paul Martin was close second with six points. The game ended with the score nineteen to twelve in favor of Greenville High School.

This was a very hard fought game and the Greenville High School team showed their ability along the basket-ball line.

The Delaware game was at ten o'clock the same evening. They had a hard team to beat as Delaware was accustomed to the floor and had the advantage of the crowd.

The game started by a ran from the Delaware team who made three baskets in the first few minutes of the game. Martin, previous to the game had been sick and had to be taken out. Perfer substituted for him and later Dale Lephart replaced Peiffer.

The game was a good one but the blus were too great and we lost by a score of seventeen to hy. Coppess led the scoring for Greenville making four of the five points.

The Delaware team was chiminated by Stivers, who won by only lotte points thus proving that the Delaware team was one of the fastest on the floor.

Our team started home on Saturday afternoon and stopped in Columbas to witness the Ohio State Michigan game. They arrived here S indix night, all resolved that they should have another try at the cup in the near future.

LLOYD WEISENBARGER, '21.

31

The Last of the Skippers.

We were crowded in the assembly, Not a soul was dared to sleep. It was raining on the out side, And the roof had sprung a leak.

As we sat there in the silence,
Lach one busy with his cares,
We are lost!" the captain shouted,
As we staggered down the stairs

All was quiet along the stairway,
Quieter still along the hall,
Determination marked each visage,
Silence reigned among us all.

As we approached so stealthily,
Anxious of impending fate,
Suddenly Mr. Bailey in the hallway,
Warned us that we were too late.
ERNET HUGHES.

1920 Class Night Program

March -"Pturibus Unum"

Class Play -- "Miss Somebody Else" A Comedy in Four Acts.

Directed by Miss Myra Swisher English Dept. High School

Written by Marion Short.

THE PLOT

Mrs. Delavan, the unsuccessful manager of a public club house and on the verge of bankruptcy, consents to her daughter's wishes to continue in the social life of society and then appeals to her scientific husband for a solution to her problems. But all in vain is her appeal, for her husband's only interest is the perfecting of a new gas, Ozonia, which he hopes to give to the world in behalf of the health of little children.

At this critical time, Constance Durcy, who is the daughter of an old school mate of Mrs. Delavan, and now acting as a detective to capture the crook who stale in integral as a frem here on a little rappy them, a visit. After learning the real truth of the financial conditions of her mother's dear friend, Delavan, she comes to her assistance.

Disguised as an Irish maid, she transforms the old club house into a popular resort and timing the real guests, through the resogn time of an electracing boy becomes Rephill stings, the crook who robed for father. Her schemes to the retail to place of the view and brack to capture him form exciting moments,

THE CAST

Constance Darcy, daughter of a multi-millionaire mine owner — Nellie Turner Celeste, a French maid in the employ of Constance — Margaret Markwith Ann Delavan, a reduced gentlewoman, manager of the Tuxedo-brook

Club House Lenh Jefferis

Mildred Delavan, eighteen year old daughter of Ann and Jasper Delavan. She is light-headed, fond of display, sentimental

Ceres Williams

Susan Ru, gs, Mrs Delavan's maid servant of a melancholy disposi-

Pauline Robbins
t ger Liam, ood, Mrs. Bisinwood's only son kaipi Hastings, a young crook
John, chauffeur to Constance
J sper Delayan, an elderly scientist
Sylvater train, a diffident chap of good family
Fred Piace

so ft Statefe . an anthusiastic but awkward member of Tu edo-crook society

GUESTS

vice K.mm. I, Helen Miller, Florence Rimer, Winifred Calderwood, Irene Witt, Kopert Gibert, Robert Williams, George Albright, and Clarence Schmalenberger

SETTING

ACT 1-A small tea room in the Tuxedo-brook Club House,

ACT II The same.

ACT III -Another room in the Tuxedo-brook Club House.

ACT IV-The same,

Music by the High School Orchestra and Glee Club Special Furniture Lamps furnished by Cambell Furniture Store

Foot Ball Athletics.

At the beginning of the school year of 1920, the spirit shown by the student body and the faculty could not have been equaled in the past. This was due greatly to the fact that we were fortunate enough to get Coach Drake this year. Under the able supervision of Coach Drake, we were given the opportunity to develope any physical qualities which we presented the training in Architect not only bands up the body, and mind, but makes every student more alert even in the school room.

This football season was the most successful that G. H. S. has experienced for a number of years, but what made it successful was the teamwork shown by the team, With this teamwork, the hard work of the Coach and the never failing spirit of the Student body, G. H. S. was able to turn out a successful football team.

JAMES HELMAN, '21.

(S)

THE CHIEF

Foot Ball

WEST ALEXANDRIA AT GREENVILLE

October 1. This was the first game of the season and although G. H. S. had not laid very much practice they succeeded in defeating West Advandous by the score of 18 b.—The game was fast and exciting and attended by a large crowd of rooters.

GREENVILLE AT WEST ALEXANDRIA

October 8. The following Friday, Greet ville journeyed to West Alexandria. A though the opposition was much greater than the previous week the G. H. S. triumphed, 7-0.

GREENVILLE AT ARCANUM

October 15. The team went to Arcanum this week and defeated them by the score of 29.0. The team had hoped to run up a large score but Arcanum had surpused them. A large crowd of rooters accompanied the team.

VAN WERT AT GREENVILLE

October 22. Van Wert played Greenville this week. It was rumored that this team had never been defeated but before they got home it had been rumored in Van Wert that they had been defeated by the fast Greenville team, 13-0.

ARCANUM AT GREENVILLE

October 28. Areamon came to Greenville this week with great hopes of defeating G. H. S. but not only were Areamon's hopes smashed but. Greenvice's hope of a large score realized in a 73-0 score.

SIDNEY AT GREENVILLE

November 5. Sidney came to Greenville with good reputation already having defeated thio at the Green and White after a thin his barne had succeeded in defeating them 20-3. This was the first time the G. H. S. had been scored on.

GREENVILLE AT MIAMISBURG

November 12. This was the best game of the season. No two teams fought harder or were more everly matched. The result was always in doubt but a touch-down in the third quarter gave the Green and White the game.

GREENVILLE AT PIQUA (Cancelled)

November 19. Greenville was supposed to have played Piqua but owing to the condition of the ground the game had to be called off.

November 24. This was the last game of the season. Owing to the adverse condition of the ground and to the unsportsmanship of the Sidney players, and their referee Greenville lost by a close score of 6-9.

FOOT BALL SCORE

	G H S.	OPPONENTS:
Oct. 1. West Alexandria at Greenville	18	-0
Oct. 8. Greenville at West Alexandria .	_	()
Oct. 15. Greenville at Arcanum	204	E)
Oct. 22. Van Wert at Greenville,	13	4
Oct. 28. Arcanum at Greenville	4	3.3
Nov. 5. Sidney at Greenville	200	$
Nov. 12. Greenville at Miamisburg.		0
Nov 19. Greenville at Piqua (cancelled)
Nov. 24. Greenville at Sidney	6	9
	1 - 1	1.3

Number of Quarters Played in Foot Ball

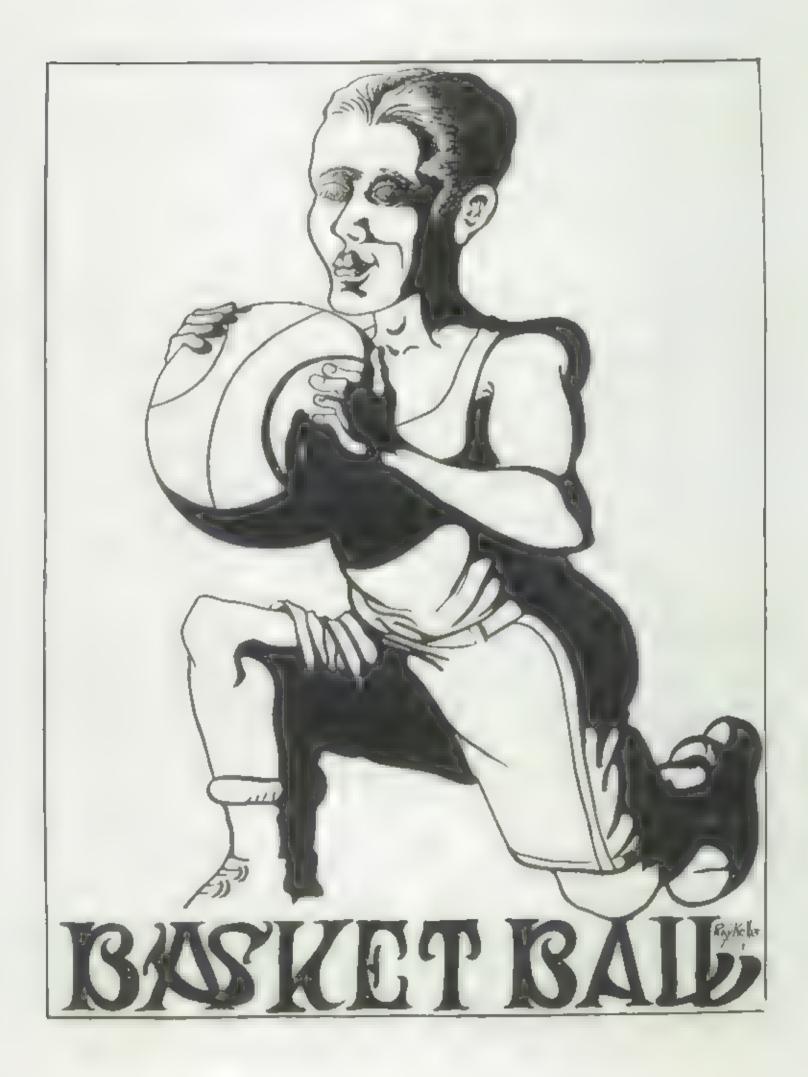

Jackson, center	32	Reck, Myron, tackle	.15
Jenkinson, guard	32	Peiffer, half-back
Reck, David, tackle	32	Culbertson, guard
Stoltz, full-back	30	Rehmert, guard
Clark, end	28	McEow n, guard	٦ ١
Coppess, end		Rush John, guard	4
Lephart, half back.		Jobes, full-back	1
Martin, (Captain), quarter-back.	~ ~	Taylor, half-back	2
Kolp, half-back .		Rush, Harvey, quarter-back
Helman, guard .	1 +	McGreevey, center)

Foot Ball letters were awarded to the following:

Martin, Paul Stoltz, Robert Lephart, Dale Kolp, Robert Peiffer, Herald Clark, Myers Coppess, Robert Reck, David Reck, Myron Helman, James Jenkinson, Robert Jackson, Earl

Basket Ball

Like the football team, the basketball team enjoyed the most successful season it has bassed in many years. They got started early and won by far the greater per cent of their games. The main factor in their success was the teamwork displayed. The team got together better than any team G. H. S. has had for some time, and generally lost that opponents with whirlwind passing. In respect to the teamwork, too much credit cannot be given Coach Drake, whose instruction did much to develope the team's passing

In Stoltz and Haworth, the team had two guards, who were the equals of any two men the team faced. In Coppess they had a center who, as a rule, was able to outplay his opponent. Clark and Martin at the forwards were always in the game and always scoring well. In addition the team had such a great wealth of substitutes that the absence of a regular was not necessarily disastrous.

HARVEY RUSH, '21.

BASKET BALL TEAM

Basket Ball

GREENVILLE AT PLEASANT HILL

The team opened the season at Pleasant Hill, with a 26 to 7 victory. The game showed plainly that it was the first one for Greenville, and some of the men stuck rather to football tactics.

XENIA AT GREENVILLE

This was our first defeat. The team was hadly handicapped by the absence of three regulars but the subs fought hard. Xenia played a whirlwind game and deserved all they got though, with a team of full regulars the score might have been otherwise than 26 to 11 against us.

TIPPECANOE CITY AT GREENVILLE

Tippecanoe City was here when the team really hit its stride. The visitors had some team but they couldn't keep in the game with G. H. S. Our passing was good and the guarding tight, The score was 20 to 9.

ARCANUM AT GREENVILLE

Areanum claimed the championship of the county last year and came up to uplike Lordowns and likewise avenge the two foliball defeats she suffered at the hands of the Green and White. The game was fast and scrappy but superior teamwork told, and G. H. S. triumphed 29 to 17.

GREENVILLE AT TROY

Jan. 21. This game was well played despite the absence of three regulars and the coach. The team succeeded in holding the fast Troy quintet to the score of 36 to 20.

ANSONIA NORMAL

Jan. 28. In this game Greenville had a walk over, the game at no time being in a doubt. After the first few minutes of play, Ansonia began using defensive tactics but they were made dizzy by the fine passwork of the Green and White and lost by the score of 46 to 13.

UNION CITY IND. AT GREENVILLE

Feb. 4. Union City put a great battle but they were no match for Coach Drake's boys. The Green and White had them outclassed from all angles of the game. The score 45 to 23.

PIQUA AT GREENVILLE

Feb. 11. If ever a team wanted to win a game, the G. H. S. wanted to win this one. Believing that they had a winning team, but were not allowed to prove it. They were out to prove it in basketball. This game was fast and exciting and not until the last few minutes did Greenville succeed in cinching the game.

PLEASANT HILL AT GREENVILLE

Feb. 18 Greenville won this game without much opposition. The game was slow and unexciting and at no time were the Green and White in danger of defeat. The final score 35 to 15.

GREENVILLE AT UNION CITY, IND.

Feb. 25. Union City was out to avenge their first defeat. They put up a much sufter game than before but it was not enough to stop the whiteword passwork of the Green and White who won 23 to 8.

90

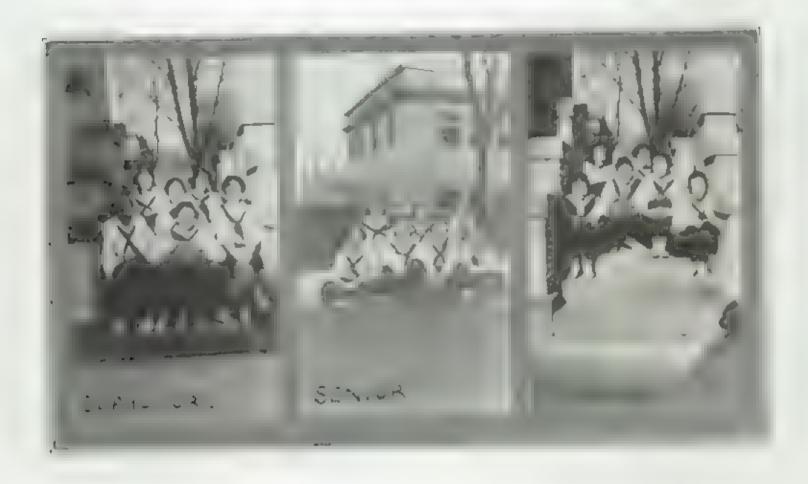

BASKET BALL SCORES

		G H S	OPPONENTS
December 10	Greenville at Pleasant Hill	2/1	-
December 17.	Xenia at Greenville	3.1	26
December	Vicin Confe	4.4	15
January 7	Topical or Cit at Circuit le	20	9
January 14	Areamen at Greeny le	714	17
January 21	Grecov or at I cov		36
January 28	. Assorta Normal at Green He	41	13
February 4	Union City, Ind at Greenwille	45	23
February [1	Piqua at Greenville.	14	26
February 18	Pleasant Hill at Greenville,	35	15
February 25	Greenville at Union City, Ind	7 4	8
March 4	Basket Ball Tournament at Delaware	-	(7
	Bradford	1 ,	1.3
	Delaware	5	1
March 11	Greenville at Arcanum .	8	18
	Total	11.6	24.2
	BASKET BALL (Second Team)
December 10	Greenville at Pleasant Hill	1.
January 14	Arcanum at Greenville	10	4
January 28	Versailles at Greenville .	1.7	10
February 18	. Pleasant Hill at Greenville	1.3	11
March 11	. Greenville at Arcanum	1.	·
	THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN 19 A	1,	10
		90	4.2

The following boys were awarded Basket Ball G's: Coppess, Clark, Stoltz, Martin, Jenkinson, Perffer, Lephart.

Girl's Athletics

This year it was by no means necessary to coax the girls to answer Miss Evan's call for bask to ball on lostes. The Night more in a Secret trans were composed mainly of veteralis, but the Treshnan class as a had some parental to a proud of Al, these who came for practice which lasted several works, worked had and showed fair progress.

It being decided to have inter-class games, a good many routers turned out and showed their class spirit.

Only three times were played, owing to the fact that the Jumors could not scrape up a team and him to total their rates. It hist was that I might part between the I reshmen and Sophomeres, the I reshmen wanting by secret 14 to 12. In the second, the Seniors nosed out the Freshmen by a score of 14 to 1, but the Thables' showed sportsmanship by being good tests. The third came Seriols and Sophomeres was the classificate. However, the Seriols a continuous the champet it ship., Score, 15 to 13

The girls are now looking forward to an interesting track practice in order to make the Field Meet this year the best ever.

The teams of the respective classes were:

Freshmen Betty K. i. is: apting and forward. Mary Livingst is ferwird, Wilhelm i.a. Kurz, samping verter. Evelyn Habarie, manning center. Marginet Brown, guard, and Pauline Brown, guard.

Sophomore, Allie, ea Hawarth, captain as a toward Tourene Harmer torwine, Ruth Hahn, jumping center, Lovina Turner, running center, Corene Wilt.

guard, and Alice Strait, guard.

Senior: Helen York, captain and jumping center, Joanita Redman, running center, Doris Kerlin, forward, Catharine Katzenberger, forward, Sarah Ross, guard and Thelma Young, guard

Group Basket Ball Teams

Several years ago, something new in the line of Athletics was inaugurited in G. H. S. Group Basket Ball Leains were formed, so as to give an opportunity for every box in High School to engage in athletics. Four groups have been organized, the Blue, Grey, Orange and Red.—The gimes are played every Friday afternoon in the gymnasium—This plan has been found to be very effective, and has given everyone a chance to engage in athletics.

GS

THE CHIEF

Base Ball

Last years team was composed of nearly all new material, only two of the regulars of the year before being lack. The largest equad reported for plactice that has ever been known and this nade the work of the Ceach harder in selecting a team. The season was not a success. G. H. S. winning two cut of the four games played. The weather conditions were very bad and a number of games had to be cancelled.

SCHEDULE

- Versailles at Greenville.
- 1 Greene e it Versa, s
- 3. Union City at General
- 4. Greenville at Union City.

Ist Game. This was the first game of the season and it was plainly evident, nevertheless the game was close and exciting, and not until the last imming did Versailles bring in the winning run. Score, 7-6.

2nd Game Versailles had little difficulty in winning this game by the score of 11.7. The Green and Where could not but consister ay and fance to follow an their advantage. (Both teams were handicapped by the cold and strong wind.)

3rd and 4th Games. There was little to these games, Greenville easily defeat.

ing Union City by the scores of 28-3 and 29-5

G's awarded: Culbertson, Fox, Paul Martin, J E. Martin, Jobes, Clark and Coppess.

65

THE CHIEF

Teacher—"Now every person has so much sulphur in their body, but some people haven't as much as others."

Witty Student "No wonder some people make poor matches."

At Junior Play.

Glen Rebka to Pauline Holzupfel. "Dearest, do vou not love me?"

Pauline—(shaking her head) "No."

Miss Kidwell—(enthusiastically) "Oh! Yes! Yes! You do, Pauline."

A Senior Girl—"No wonder I can't get history. Here it says I moslin was shot in his box. Now where do you suppose his box is?"

Mr. Allen—"Tomorrow we shall have a test. We have not had one since the Civil War."

Definition given on test paper—"Heir—One that is bequeathed to something."

Mr. Rohleder—"Into what three divisions was Alexander's Empire divided?"

Bright Sophomore "It was divided into Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil."

Erny Hughes--(in English class) "Have you a pen?" Miss Kidwell-"No, but I have plenty of points." Erny-"That's what I need. Will you give me some?"

CS

THE CHIEF

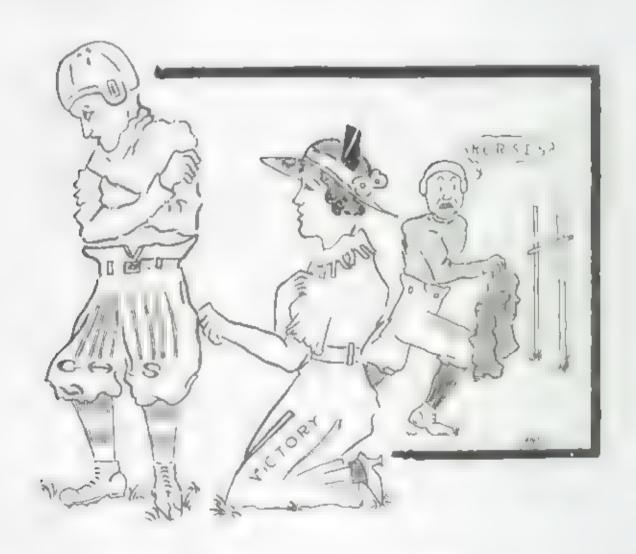

Mr. Ottman— explaining concerning Spanish Club Orchestra) "Now last year the orchestra was organized but we didn't get to play. We practiced some but the orchestra was a failure. We want to do the same thing this year." (?)

Jimmie Lynch answering question wrong in History. Alr. Rohleder "I veryone that believes that, get up and stand on your head."

Miss Lindsey (in English) "Can anyone give me a sentence with universal in ac"

Freshie-"Yes. A Ford is a universal buzz wagon."

Miss Morris—(Geometry) "What is space?"
Pupil—"I've got it in my head, but I can't say it."

Found on Eng. II test "Open puncturation is when you do not put in all the puncturation."

Neva Vichael, in 7th period English class, speaking of the witch scene in "Macbeth" "The witches held the audience in suspension."

CLASS OF 1921

The Optimist says:

"If nome to wless fellow, with too is go averse Starts a scandalous story on you Just smile an I raget it, it might have been worse Remember it might have been true

Yours.

BARR & CO.

Peoples Store 4% Paid on Time Savings Deposits

Peoples Savings Bank

ED MONG

"The Fashion Shop"

Headquarters For

SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES and KAHN TAILORED CLOTHES

The Best Place to Find the Latest in HATS, SHIRTS, TIES and HOSIERY

327 BROADWAY

The Treaty Company

WHOLESALE

Plumbing, Heating, Mill, Factory, Water and Well Supplies

MANUFACTURERS

Red Indian Pumps, Royal Stoves and Ranges, Feed Cookers, Butchers' Stoves, Tank Heaters and Municipal Castings

The Ross Supply Company, which was incorporated in 1902 and took the name from the then manager of the company. This name was continued until 1919, at which time the name of the company was changed to The Treaty Company.

Among our many customers and friends outside of the city of Greenville, the question is sometimes asked what is the significance of the new name. This is the explanation.

In 1790 the whole of what was then known as the Northwest territory was a wilderness and the few white settlers in it were harassed by Indian warriors and massacres and which culminated in the disastrous defeat of General St. Clair at Fort Recovery in 1791. In 1795 General Anthony Wayne having subdued the Indians, called them into council at Fort Greenville and after weeks of deliberation the Treaty of Greenville, which threw open the Northwest Territory to settlement and progress, was signed. From this territory the great states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and a part of the State of Michigan, were formed Some years afterwards, the town, now city, of Greenville was laid out on the site of the old fort and the scene of the famous council that created the treaty. Since that time the city of Greenville has been known as The Treaty City.

In selecting a permanent name for the Company it was thought because of its location that none could be selected that would be more appropriate than The Treaty Company, referring to the great Treaty from which came so much good and prosperity.

Our wish is that the policy of our Company may be similar to the great Treaty in fair dealing, prosperity and good service to our customers and friends

Yours respectfully,

THE TREATY CO.

Quality Store Clothes

Are

RIGHT in STYLE

RIGHT in SENSE

RIGHT in PRICE

See Clothes Fitted by Expert Tailor

THE MONG CLOTHING CO.

Quality Store

Greenville, Ohio

Bradford, Ohio

Who's Who-Famous For-And Why

Esther Bolick	Her prize blond hair	. Peroxide (?)
Lois Booker	Queriess'	.Oh, Man!
Therefore Branch and Control of the	Vamp g "Tack"	. Senior rhetoricals
1 Water of the control of the contro	\\ t	.She's full of it
Iviary 150yer -	Nicknames	See Mariet
Mary Buchanan Mary Calderwood		. Just hear her laugh
Margaret Cooke	Complexion	Powder and paint
Dorothy Coppock	Fastactic dencing	. Acquired reflex-action
Dorothy Coppock	. Ability as Staff Secretary
Nellie Dunnam	. Skill as stenographer	Can't help it
Dassie Eaton	. Sphinx-like silence	Bashful
Adah Pox	.Transcribing shorthand	She studies
Opal Fox	Ability in 14Change 11	Ask Re.
Cleo Benien	. Ability in "Caesar"	They're in demand
Mildred French	Farming	Breaking bearts
Bertha Glessner	.Vamping	Ask Mr. Metzvar
Ruby Hoke	. Ability in chemistry .	Burns the midnight oil
Bessie Huffman .	Devotion to knowledge	Because she is
Vera Hufford	n learne life	She goes to church
Esther Hughes.	, Keligious me	Try her
Eleanor Johannes	. Expert typing	See Miss Kidwell
Helen Johannes	Brains	They're so nice
Josephine Jones	. Her boos	It comes natural
Catharine Katzenberger	. Her poetry	Ask Dot
Doris Kerlın		Natural ability
Ethel King	Book-keeping	Powders and mirrors
Lois Lohmann	. Her beauty	Ack her
Lucile Markwith	Boys and boys	Fate 'em un
Dorothea Mendenhall.	Love stories	Liver her was
Lorena Mendenhall	. Smiles	Can's help it
Clara Meyer	Her good nature	Shings in school
Neva Michael	Her brilliance	Never makes mistakes
Mary Miller	Ability as Senior usher	1: Mayor
Eulitta Moeller	Friendliness	She's a nice kid
Martha Mong	Geniality	There's a reason
Ethel Oelslager .	Trips to Union City	Auchwardness (?)
June Pearce	Her broken arms	Athletic
	Basket ball	Light headed
Sarah Ross	Excitability	le's beight
Beulah Reece.	Her headlight	Her nen
Reland Schreel.	Being in on everything .	Do you know her?
Adrian Small	Quietness	le like an appelle
Ruth Swartz	Her voice	She knows everything
Florence Vance	Talkativeness	one knows everything

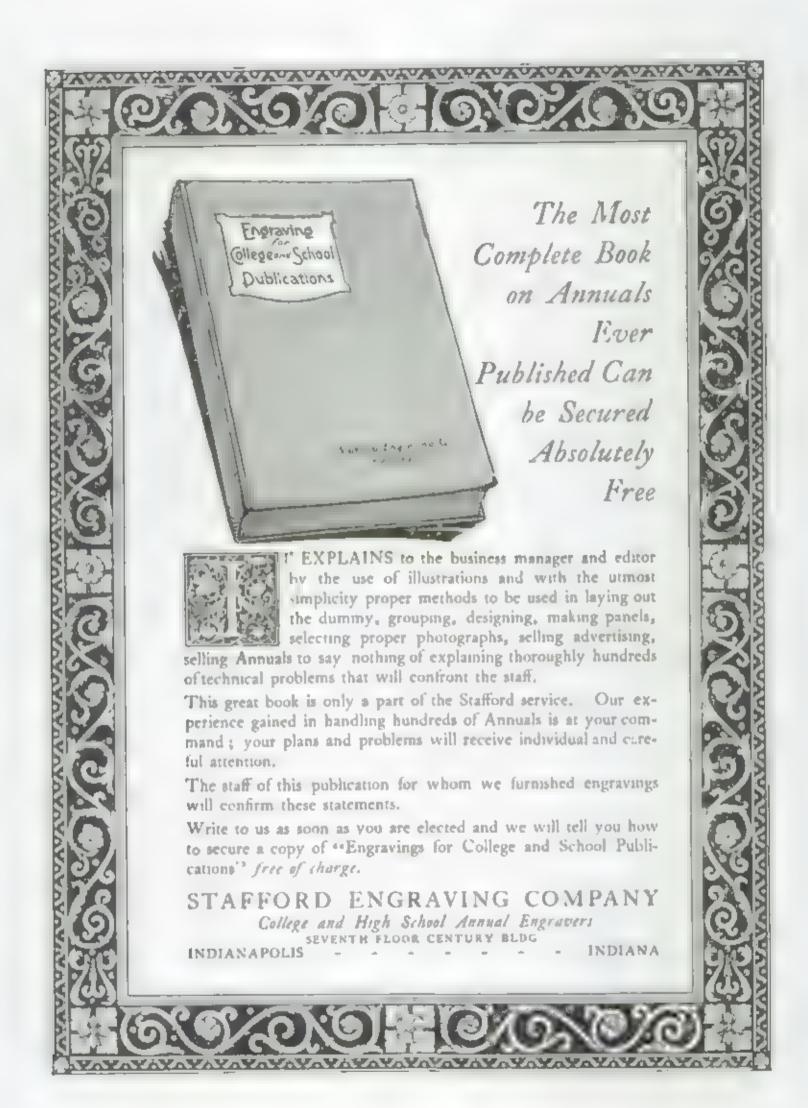

Hazel Weaver	()= .	They're natural
Marybess Wiebusch		She plays everything well
Norma Wilson,		Nuff sed!
	The state of the s	Naturally bright
	Her laugh	Did you ever hear it?
	Carpentry .	Ask "Kneky"
E. J. Colville		He loves the corn
*	Business- 187 Ways	Hustler
		Ask Mr. Bailey
	Teasing
	His talking trombone	, . He plays like Fos
Harry Haworth ,	Tardiness	Dates
hat Helman .	Being the one exception	Not every good thing is small
Ern Hughes	Prp	l don't know; do you?
Bill Jobes .	Argumentation	He loves it
Earl Jackson,	Trips to Versailles.	We wonder
James Keller .	His famous brother.	, . Read on
Ray Keller	Designing the Annual	Comes natural
	Playing violin
	Being midget of football team
	Detective like ways
	Asking (?) for dates
	Studious ways
	His knowledge
	'Yes-es-a,'' Sure-a'' Bashfulness
	Loneliness
	Bachelor days Agriculture
	Smiles
	. His Caruso-like voice .
	Speed	*
	. Solemnity
	.Knowledge of bugs
	Invincibility
	Dates (7)
Paul Youst	Vamping girls	Wouldn't you?

WE SELL SHOES

At Prices You Can Easily Afford

One of the most pleasant things about the new Spring Shoes is their moderate pricing, made possible through changed market conditions, and very careful buying, and when you see the wonderful variety of styles which have appeared for the new season, you'll be as enthusiastic as we are, about the beautiful footwear for spring.

BROWN'S BOOTERY

Where Your Shoon Are Properly Fitted

HILDEBRAND CO.

Better Things to Eat

A Clean Store Prompt Service

A Square Deal

Two Telephones For Service No. 61 No. 278

435 Broadway

BUY GIFTS THAT LAST

Wieland & Daniel

JEWELERS

Fifth and Broadway

Farmers National Bank

Total Resources $1,000,000 Capital $290,000

Conrad Kipp, President and Director
H. E. Hufnagle, Vice-Pres. and Director
Joseph Menke, Cashier and Director
H. S. Kolp, Assistant Cashier
F. C. Helman, Teller and Director
Jacob Boyer, Teller
Geo. W. Mannix, Jr., Director
Clarence Patty Director
B. W. John, Director
Ethel Hufnagle, Bookkeeper
Nettie Rontzong, Bookkeeper

Foreign Drafts Issued

Your Banking Business Solicited

BUCHANAN'S

Home-Made Candies and Frozen Dainties

Loyd W.—(in English) "The iambic foot is two feet and one stretched." (stressed)

A pair in a hammock attempted to kiss.

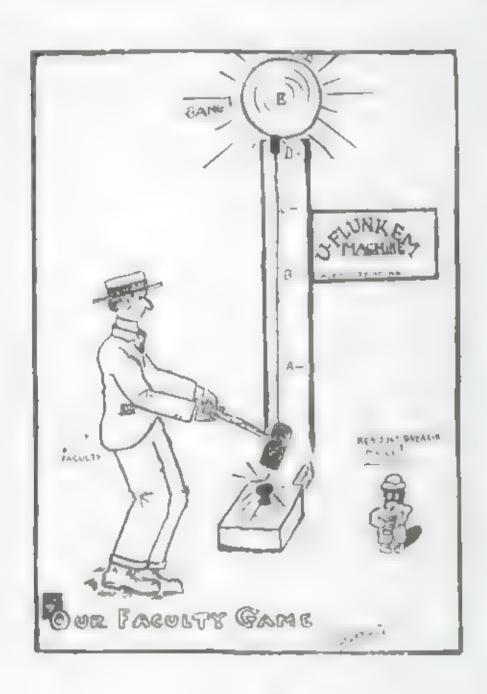

"Did you know that the human being contains sulphur?"

"No, really?"

"Yes, that's the reason some girls make better matches than others."

Freshman to Senior—"Will you tell me how you can divide 17 apples equally among 11 boys, if 4 of them are real small?" Senior—"Yes. Mak'em into apple sauce."

What is the difference between Norma Wilson and a mouse? One charms the "hes" and the other harms the cheese.

Chelsie E. Basley

Gustav Buchy

BAILEY & BUCHY

Fresh and Smoked MEATS

Your Patronage Solicited

Phone 69

115 Martin St.

Dancing

Class and Private Lessons

Instructions in All Departments of the Art

MAY FRANCES KOLP HOWARD S. KOLP

Ream Plumbing Co.

Engineers and Distributors of Water, Gas, Steam and Electrical Supplies

The Delco Light Store

604 Broadway

Phone 521

The Season Changes, and Clothes Follow Joyously

GAY WRAPS and FROCKS

Frilly or Sedate. Flower-hued. A fairyland of loveliness. Exclusive, but not expensive. You are invited to come and see our exhibition.

STECKER'S

Compliments of

OPERA HOUSE

The Home of the

BEST PHOTO PLAYS

Vances' Grocery Stores

The Home of the BEST BRANDS

RICHELIEU FOOD PRODUCTS

KO-WE-BA PRODUCTS

Chase and Sanborn Teas and Coffees

Kellogg Food Products

438 Broadway

VANCES MEAT MARKET

112-114 E. Third St. PHONES 67 and 76

Established 1902

Citizens State Bank

GREENVILLE, OHIO

WF pay interest on time deposits and do a General Banking Business.

C. R. LEFTWICH

Pianos, Players, Music and Phonographs

411 Broadway

Buicks! Buicks! Buicks!

WILL YOU BE MISLED?

Why purchase other makes of Cars on Buicks reputation?

IF IT'S AS GOOD AS A BUICK, WHY NOT BUY A BUICK?

The Dunham Auto Co.

THE HOME OF THE BUICK

Cor. Martin and Jackson Sts.

Phone 208

BERT CRISLER

Soda Grill and Confectionery

442 Broadway

Phone 9

TELLINGS ICE CREAM

GREENVILLE NATIONAL BANK

Resources $1,500,000

Commercial, Farm, and Industrial Business of All Kinds Satisfactorily Conducted. Your Business Solicited.

JOHN H. KOESTER, President H. A. SNORF, Vice-President ADELBERT MARTZ, Cashier H. T. LECKLIDER, Assistant Cashier J. E. KLINE, Assistant Cashier E. J. KELLER. Bookkeeper-Teller EDITH IRWIN, Collection Clerk-Stenographer

DIRECTORS

JOHN H. KOESTER J. L. BOYER H. A. SNORF M. A MAHER W. E. NELSON F. D. COPPOCK O. R. KRICKENBERBER W. A. BROWNE, St.

BASTIAN BROS. CO.

Manufacturers of Class Pins

Class Rings Athletic Metals

Engraved Commencement Announcements and Invitations

CALLING CARDS

571 Bastian Bldg.

Rochester, N. Y.

Taken from English examination papers over "Vicar of Wake-field": Geo. Primrose sang for the "pheasents" (peasants).

Mr. Thornhill was found out to be a "scandal" (scoundrel). George Primrose is requested to go work for a living, so the Vicar gives George his blessing and a "hobby horse" horse, meaning staff).

Miss Lindsey—"Who knows anything about Venus?"
Ott,—"I sat beside her ma in the street car the other day."

Mr. Allen—"What is the difference between a formal and informal party?"

Thelma Young—"Formal is an affair for which you dress and informal is where you don't."

Mr. Gowdy, calling on Win. Patty, who had been in California for two months: "William Patty, the next sentence." (Louduproar from the class.)

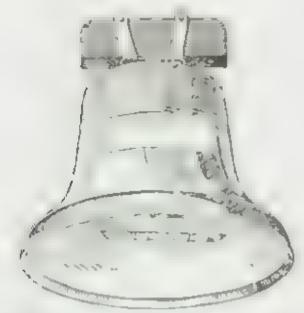

Mr. Gowdy-"Is he absent today?"

Mr Allen "What big problem confronted us after the Spanish War?"

Freeman Warner-"The Death of McKinley."

Dobbie—(translating in Spanish I.) "The corn is a tall plant and has green leaves and yellow eyes."

The Citizens Loan &

Come none start an account, and get one of our Liberty Bell Saviras Banks The best sav ings method devised.

> O. R. KRICKENBERGER, Secretary 118 W. Fourth St.

Henry St. Clair Co.

WHOLESALE GROCERS

106 8-10 W. Main St.

Greenville, Ohio

The only place in the city where you can get your outfits for the Gym, Baseball, Football and Basketball.

Central Drug Store

Opp. Court House

The Sonora

For Sale by

E. C. JOBES

414 Sycamore St. Phone 786

GREENVILLE, OHIO

PRESTIGE

200

OTHING will give you more prestige than engraved name cards.

WE can offer the latest form in Cards, Wedding Invitations, or any Engraved Work.

37

R. E. WENGER

Book and Office Supply Store

Steinmetz The Tailor

440 Broadway

Phone 620

For Floor Paints and Floor Varnishes

In Fact All Kinds of HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Call at

Pierson & Reid's
Hardware Store

Perfection in Dress

for either the man or woman of all ages, can be obtained only through correct fittings of any article of apparel.

There are certain little details about Shoes, Clothing, Gloves, etc. that go a long way towards Perfection in attire.

The Palace Store is striving daily to see that the Man or Woman gets that style effect one so admires, instead of only half getting it.

Kirschbaum Clothes and Walk-over Shoes for Men

PRINCESS and SUNSHINE APPAREL and RED CROSS Shoes For Women

BROADWAY at FIFTH THE PALACE STORE

GREENVILLE

Roundheads vs. Soreheads

My Dear Miss Kidwell:

A most exciting game of volley-ball was played in the gymnazium last Wednesday evening. The final score was announced after much debating and blustering on the part of the Soreheads, and proved the Soreheads no match for the more athletic Roundheads. The final score being 3 to 2 in favor of the victors, of course.

The line-up for the Soreheads were all second hand players as they soon proved themselves. Captain Baily put his men through a stiff practice. Metzgar, garbed in foot-ball clothes, made a vicious protest to his captain when no rest was granted after the work-out, before the game, but taking all in consideration Harry was light on his feet. Othello Ottman was the only player of ability on the side of the Soreheads, although he much resembled a cupie doll, his appearance did not affect his elegant serving over the net. Captain Baily seemed unable to hold his temper, and was unable to taste defeat as their gallant team fell before the strong Roundhead onshur to Rhoadar who at first cident tun lerstand the game, spruced up a bit and was the cause of their first victory, with the able aid of staring Slim Kessler.

No mention should be given the Roundheads as their victories explain their team's above or control of their most externed captain. Then M. Mos in Drake, Ph. D. the opposing five showed the benefit of slight training.

Metzgar tried his best to put the ball over the net but his weight held him down on the floor most of the time and it took the combined efforts of both teams to help him regain a standing position. The members of the Sorcheads were not able to understand the intricate plays of their opponents, and as an alibi they accused the umpire of cheating in favor of the Roundheads. The time of actual playing was forty-five minutes and the total time of argumentation was one hour and thirty-six minutes.

On leaving the floor the Roundheads were informed that the sentiments wished on them by the Soreheads was not of the best nature, as they soon found out before they left the gymnazium. During the time of dressing the enmity grew between the two teams, and by the time of departure an open conflict looked inevitable. As they passed through the Roundheads' dressing room, their envy was intense, but a few heated words from the soreheaded Soreheads, were soon returned by the gallant Roundhead warmers and the defeated team left in no good frame of mind.

The featured players of the game were Metzgar, on receiving he was unsurpassed. Ottman also did good work in serving and receiving. Every member of the Soreheads proved themselves capable of arguing any question to the fullest extent, and it is reported by good reliable persons, that the Soreheads are still sore.

The party was called off on account of rain. We are terribly sorry.

JOHN.

CORNELL & OGELSBY

HOME OF

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

Stetson Hats

Arrow Shirts

The Ohio Theatre

BROADWAY

We Show Good and Clean Pictures Only

JOHN P. LUCAS, Prop.

Banmer Book Store

School and Office Supplies

Books, Films, Etc.

116 W. Fourth St.

Phone 659

HE Best Service is none too good for our patrons.

Laurimore's Cafeteria

It will be our earnest endeavor to relater this at all times

The Second National Bank GIFTS FOR GRADUATES

Diamonds

Watches

Jewelry

W. H. SCHINKE

Jeweler and Optometrist

GREENVILLE, OHIO

This Space is Dedicated to

The Senior Class of 1921

By Henry St. Clair Memorial Hall

HARRY E. MILES, Manager

Pep-a-la-Mode

I will admit we as seniors know very little and furthermore, hope we will be able to acquire great knowledge, but before that can be accomplished, each one of us will have to know the meaning of "Pep." It would be safe to say that nine out of ten could not define this simple word. Mr. Webster was unable to do it, because I looked to see.

Now let me ask you a few questions. Where does Pep originate? Why do we say some boy or girl has Pep? Why do we always say something has Pep when it appears tuil of life? I will tell you what Pep is, if you have time and patience to read farther.

Pep is a bag; and being like any other bug, it tries to be independent; this accounts for the many different kinds of Pep. Now when we say a young man has a lot of Pep, we mean he has an abundant supply of a particular kind of a Pep bug. It a school has Pep, it likewise has a Pep bug. When we speak of a teacher with Pep you may conclude our meaning to be, that he has a bug. It makes no difference what one applies the Pep bug to, the same lively effect will follow. Now with this information one can readily pick out a good actinition, but for those who have not acquired a bug, here is an easy one to remember. Pep is the "Bug of Ambition,"

This particular bug is one's best friend. If you, dear reader, should ever be near anyone with a Pep bug, and have not caught one, by all means get busy. Take good care of it and your wornes are over. Get one of these precious creatures, give it a good home and we will guarantee the results. Make your selection with care otherwise you might get the wrong kind of a bug, and this would cause a most disastroas calamity. The best way to select is to take only the one labeled, "Co operation and Optimism." By doing this, you will be an asset and not a liability to society.

The world demands Pep from everyone, so get your share of this labeled bug and start out.

J. C. Fox, '21.

227

As a minister and his two daughters were walking along the beach, they met a fisherman overhauling his nets. The minister stopped to talk and introduced himself as a "Fisher of Men.". The fisher man looked at the minister, then at his daughters, and said, "You all got pretty good bait."

Mr. Metzgar—(working problem) "Is that right?"
Bill Jobes—(under his breath) "That wasn't what I got!"
Mr. Metzgar—"Well, this must be right then?"

MARKER REALTY CO.

Room 7, Anderson Block

OPP. COURT HOUSE

Real Estate and Loans

First Mortgage Securities

a Specialty

Phone 111

Greenville, Ohio

The Hunt Hotel

Your Patronage will be Appreciated

115 East Third Street

Phone 147

Nash Passenger Cars and Trucks

Dodge Bros. Motor Cars

HARRY W. WISE

115-117 WEST MAIN ST.

GREENVILLE, OHIO

To Read is to Familiarize

To Eat

J. O. W. Butter AUT

To Realize Its
Purity and Sweetness

Made Every Day From Pure Sweet Pasteurized Gream by Capable Experts in a Strictly Sanitary Factory.

J.O.W. BUTTER

Best Yet

KNUPP AUTO CO.

S. J. KNUPP, Manager

High Speed Gas

Open Day and Night

Phone 85

GIRLS: ---

The Best is None too Good For You!

Garden Court Toilet Articles

BOYS:---

Parker Pens Are Sure to Please
OUR HIGHEST AIM IS TO PLEASE
THE YOUNG FOLKS

C. M. Weisenbarger & Bro.

Dealers in

DRUGS, PAINTS and WALL PAPER

LIFE FIRE HAIL HEALTH TORNADO LIVE STOCK ACCIDENT AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY

Don't Trust to Luck---Be Sure

Insure With

Mendenhall Insurance Agency

A. L. MENDENHALL

J. RALPH MENDENHALL

Anderson Block

Phone 342

GREENVILLE, OHIO

Opposite Court House

The publication of the Annual is not to make money, but simply to record the year's happenings which will be cherished by classmates in the years to come. The cost of the last year's Annual amounted to $91+.15. Through the generosity of its advertisers and the sale of the Annuals, the sum of one hundred and thirty-five dollars, over and above all the cost, was realized. The Class of 1920 has voted to erect a sun dial near the Library with this money.

Miss Kidwell, in English Class, speaking to Bob Kolp—"Robert, you may read the next paragraph."

Bob—"Out loud?"

Mr. Metzgar—(in Chemistry) "Now all the girls go to the board and fix up a balanced menu for one meal."
Reland S.—"Shall we fix it for any person or for you?"

Kansas burglar holds up City Hall. If it's in the same shape our relic is, it needs some one to hold it up.

WANTED

To Buy a 1912 High School Annual Phone HARRY MILES

733(H) 3(H) T

FTER all, when one reaches the end of four years' High School work, one has found nothing in all the books more beautiful than the masterpiece which begins with—

"He leadeth me beside the still waters"—

THE GREENVILLE GRAVEL COMPANY

Plumbing and Heating

CONTRACTOR

The Martin Street Plumbing Shop

JOE ZELLER, Prop.

Office Phone 825

123 Martin Street

Residence Phone 784

For a Real Snappy Soda or Phosphate

GET IT AT

Engelken's

Fifth St. and Broadway

Phone 753

McCartney Bros.

SEEDS That Grow

Also Paints Poultry Supplies
Metal Products

620 Broadway

BURDGE

Photographer

BROADWAY

YOUR EDUCATION IS NOT COMPLETE

Until You Learn to Trade at

The ECONOMY STORE

Greenville's Bargain Center

BEST FOR

DRY GOODS SHOES
GROCERIES
LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR
CURTAIN MATERIALS
RUGS and LINOLEUMS
WALL PAPER
GENTS' FURNISHINGS

V ce President

JOS J MOFILER Treasurer and Manager

THE LUMBER YARD

Where You Get Full Value For the Money You Spend

Be SURE to CALL For Our PLAN BOOK of BEAUTIFUL HOMES

The P. Kuntz & Wright Lumber Company

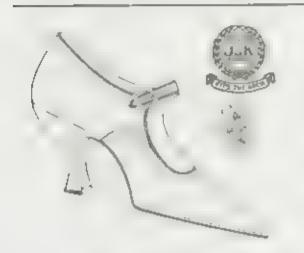

300 Green Street

Phone 302

Greenville, Ohio

We

Fit

Your Feet

McFARLAND'S

CENTRAL AUTO CO.

Willys-Knight and Overland Cars

Kelley, Springfield and Fisk Tires

Third and Walnut Phone 139
GREENVILLE, OHIO

THE PUBLIC AND OPTOMETRY

THE Public knows comparatively little about Optometry, its real purposes and functions. In a general way it is known that an Optometrist fits glasses, but it is not realized that in the last few years this profession has made great advances. Optometry is not the simple business that used to be conducted by the Optician. Optometry is more of a profession than of a business and an Optometrist has primarily a service for sale. Learn about your eyes here.

ALBERT RENTZ

OP-TOM-E-TRIST Graduate and Registered 119 Martin St. PHONE 1153

This Space Donated by

Greenville Piano
Phonograph Co.

When the dogs meawed the cows would bellow
A bareheaded boy with a hat and a how Stood sitting on his head in the July snow
His brow was dark and very white,
The sun was shining thru the night.
The ocean turned dry and the land very wet,
The dog will shake hands with the cat, I'll bet,
The hot stove was cold and the ice was warm,
The dog and the cat for the parrot did mourn
This little poem is surely good
But I don't know if it can be understood.

-EUGENE MARTIN

201

Freshman—"I got zero in Algebra."
Sophomore—"Huh! That's nothin'."

In these days of tight money about the only men who can raise money on their notes are Caruso and McCormack.

Says wife spent half his wages on face paint. She surely had a lot of cheek.

Thelma Young—in chemistry class "Crisco isn't any good! We made pies in cooking with it and had to throw them out." Mr. Metzgar—"Maybe it was the cook?" Young—"I don't know, Miss Ross made them!"

Philosophy of a young grade pupil.

Teacher—"When you speak to a woman you say Ma'am; Now what do you say to a man?"

Bright Boy—"Pop."

Student—"Say, Mr. Metzgar, this match won't light."
Mr. Metzgar—"Why, that's funny, I lit it a little while ago."

We wonder why Harry Culbertson gets so excited in third hour history class when the rights of married men are discussed?

Esther Bolick—(describing an Elizabethan theater) "The actors wore no costumes."

USE.

SEALASTIC Roof Paint

Make the Sealastic label your unfailing guide to high Quality. Satisfaction and Economy. Prudent people select it and rainsterms respect

SEE US

WM KURZ & CO.

SEEDS

Garden Seeds Flower Seeds

ALL KIND OF SEEDS THAT WILL GROW

Harrison Feed Co.

Exide Storage Battery Service Station

All Makes of Batteries RECHARGED and REPAIRED

Free Inspection

Guarantee Satisfaction

W. A. DERR, Mgr.

131 East Third Street

Phone 575-Red

FOR

Quality Class Service

SEE

Greenville Oakland
Motor Car Co.

128 W THIRD ST.

AGENCY FOR

Oakland Sensible Six

Gramm-Berstein Motor Trucks

Latest Thing in SPRING CLOTHES

You Will Like Them Very Much

THE NEW PRICES ARE ON THEM

Also Hats and Furnishings

"The Progress"

WM. LIMBERT, Prop.

Hartzell's Grocery

Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables

"Keep Eating"

Cor. 4th and Broadway Phone 720

Banner Coal Co.

Dealers in

Bituminous and Anthracite Coal

Your Orders Will be Appreciated

Yard 115 12th St. Phone 756 Office-116 W. 4th St. Greenville, Ohio

"HOME SWEET HOME" means much to all of us

THE GREENVILLE BUILDING CO.

Is ready to assist any worthy person striving for a home. Come to our New Quarters, 324 Broadway.

We Pay 5% Interest on Certificates

Ask Your Grocer For

SA-MA-EN Products

WESTERFIELD BROS. CO.

Distributors

The

Dak

Restaurant

Open Day and Night

Every Thing Under the Sun For the

HOME and FAMILY

GOLD BOND Stamps Included

At Saving of 3 percent on every dollar spent here

THE MOZART

Greenville's Big Dept. Store

"Say It With Flowers"

FROST & SPENCE

== Florists =

Wholesalers and Retailers of Cut I lowers and Potted Plants - In fact, Flowers for All Occasions - We specialize on High Grade Work

Greenhouses 748 Sweitzer St.

Phone 171

Ladies' Beauty Parlor

Rainwater Shampoo, Electrical, Facial and Scalp Treatment for Falling Hair, a Specialty.

Manicure, Hair Bobbing and Marcelling

MRS. WILL DEVOR

Phone 303

City Bakery

FOR

Good Bread, Pies and Cakes of All Kinds

L. METZCAR, Prop.

The Banner Lumber Yard

SASH LUMDET BUILDERS' HARDWARE

CEMENT

INTERIOR FINISH AND HIGH GRADE MILL WORK

Office and Yards-Martin St. and D. & U. Ry.

Phone 157

GREENVILLE, OHIO

When Your Shoes Are Worn and Need Repairing, Don't Forget

Harman & Puterbaugh

For Workmanship, Material and Service
WORK GUARANTEED

Martin's

Exclusive and Correct

MILLINERY

422 Broadway

Greenville, Ohio

"Where Quality Prevails"

Duffey Hardware C°.

Complete Line of

Hardware, Stoves, Implements

Your Patronage Solicited

426 Broadway

ALL KINDS OF

INSURANCE

Fire, Tornado, Accident Health, Ltc.

Geo. A. Katzenberger

In Office of Greenville Building Gompany

324 Broadway

Phone 180

The Greenville Electric Light & Power Co.

Extends to The

SENIOR CLASS

of the Greenville High School its congratulations and wishes its members success in every undertaking.

Secrets.

The sun is sinking in the west, All birds and bees have gone to rest, The twinkling stars are coming out, While the moon begins its nightly route.

The crickets now commence their song, To sing to us the whole night long, While far away we hear the call, Of the owl who's wise and knows it all,

But he keeps secrets to himself,
And tells no one—mortal or elf,
So if you've secrets, just tell him;
'Cause he guards them from your friend or kin.

CATHARINE KATZENBERGER '21

"Say It With Flowers"

O'BRIEN & SONS

North Broadway

PLEASING others is more than sentiment—It's almost an obligation.

YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS WANT YOUR PHOTOGRAPH

MILLER STUDIO

117 Martin St.

Greenville, Ohio

J.C. WEAVER & SON

Pharmacists

444 Broadway

GREENVILLE, OHIO

You Will Like Trading at

CAMPBELL'S

(Home Furnishers)

Piqua Sidney Greenville Troy

A LaCarte Service

Special Attention to Banquets

Huber's Restaurant

WM. HUBER, Prop.

Juicy Steaks

Good Coffee

BUY YOUR CANDIES AT

H. A. WILLSON'S

Confectionery

We will convince you that Quality is our first consideration

320 Broadway Greenville, Ohio

H. L. KESTER

Home Dressed MEATS

120 W. Fourth St. Phone 793-Black

FOR GOOD BREAD

See

rmbruster's

When You Need Something Musical

GO TO

Omer E. Westerfield

"Pianos of Quality"

Victrolas

Edisons

By the Fireside.

Outside fall the snow flakes lightly
Through the night loud raves the storm
In my room, the fire glows brightly,
And 'tis cozy, silent, warm.

I sit thinking on the settle,
By the firelight's cheerful blaze,
Listening to the busy kettle,
Bringing back forgotten days.

MARY CALDERWOOD '21

June Pearce—(while washing dishes in cooking "Oh, here's my chewing-gum in the dish water."

One minute intermission.

Jo. Jones-"Don't let Miss Ross see you chewing it."

Hester Hawes (translating in Spanish "Argentina was exported to Europe,"

Mr. Ottman-"Who was I talking to the other day?"

Specks. "The absolute absence of your reasoning faculties is a disgrace to the hitherto unblemished name of our place of learning commonly called a school."

Miss Lair—(to class) "You must get quiet."
Sophomore---"Where will we get it? I can't find any here."

Miss Ross—"You have to be close to some things to enjoy them."

SUITS and OVERCOATS

E have about 3,000 samples to select from, besides the large stock of woolens we have on hands. We have the only store of its kind in the State of Ohio. If you want to save $5 or $10 on a suit, why, walk up a flight of the buy direct from the largest woolen mills in the country, and saving you the middle man's profit. Another thing that saves you money, we are up on the second floor, out of the high rent district. So you see by buying from us you get better values for less money.

COME IN AND GIVE US A TRIAL

Greenville Tailoring Company

"TAILORING TO TASTE"

LADIES' and GENT'S SUITS

Beautifully Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00

SECOND FLOOR MEEKER BUILDING, OVER HILDEBRAND GROCERY

Work Called For and Delivered

PHONE 977

GREENVILLE, OHIO

INSURANCE

100 Percent Efficiency 100 Percent Companies 100 Percent Settlements

STENTZEL & PENDLUM

Phone 453

Ohio Block

H.B.M.CO.

312 Broadway

Mathews Shoe Store and Repair Shop

First Shoe Store South of City Hall

Gruen Watches

G. F. SCHMERMUND CO.

303 Broadway

HENRY F. WIEBUSCH

For All Kinds of

ROOFING

Tile, Slate, Metal, Skylight
Spouting

Phone 252

219 Gray Ave.

GREENVILLE, OHIO

LOIS BOOKER

Greenville High School AUCTIONEER

Phone---Art Department Memorial Hall

There was a young man named Izzie, Who went for a drink in his Lizzie. His view of the train Was obscured by the rain Alas for poor Izzie, where is he?

Fraveling man at Oak Restaurant. - "You say that they are going to raise the Army and Navy?" Waiter "No, no' I say, do you prefer roast beef and gravy?"

She-"Oh, look at that fat boy, the big bear." He-"No, that's no bear; that's Wolfe."

"When Lot's wife looked back," said the Bible teacher, what happened to her?" "She was transmuted into chloride of sodium." answered the boy with goggles.

First Girl-"How does the football team get clean after a game?" Second Girl "Why, dion t you know? They have a scrub team?''

Mr. Gowdy-"Who plays tonight?" Bod O'Brien-"Ansonia Normal and Versailles."

Mr. Gowdy sto class - "Here is a good opportunity to get a good bargain."

Mr. Gowdy's Latin Class.

Mr. Gowdy-"limmy translate this sentence and notice the fine Latin structure."

Jimmy-"Yes, it is altogether too fine for me."

Ladies' and Gents'

Shoe Shine

HATS

Cleaned and Blocked

308 BROADWAY

The Kipp Drug Store

For the Best Ice Cream and Finest Sodas

WISE & GROSS

Fancy and Staple GROCERIES

Fresh and Smoked Meats

"Quality First" -Our Motto

107 W. Third St.

How You Can Banish "Blue Monday"

WITH A

116-118 West Third Street

Dexter Electric or Power Washing Machine

Why not get a demonstration today and find out for yourself just how easily, how economically, and how satisfactorily, you can have the Dexter Washing Machine in your home.

Sellman Hardware Store

QUALITY HARDWARE

BOOKER & ROESER

Groceries and Meats

We have a full line of first class Smoked and Fresh Meats, Fancy Fruits, Vegetables, and Staple Goods.

All Phone orders are given careful attention

Phone 74

TRY OUR

Taste-Good Bread

Home-Made Pastry Our Specialty

Hohendorf Bakery Co.

W H WILLIAMS CO

Maybrun Co.

DEALERSIN

Notions, Hosiery, Corsets, and Ready-to-Wear

Infant's Wear a Specialty

619 BROADWAY

Home Steam Laundry

DRY CLEANING and PRESSING

NEWBAUER CO.

142-144 W. 4th St.

Phone 124

Stocker & Son

Funeral Directors and Embalmers....

Licensed Lady Attendant

529 South Broadway

Residence above Office Phone 129

Greenville, Ohio

The Excuse.

The boy stood on the carpet,
And the "prof" with ignorant stare,
Asked why the boy was tardy,
And he said, "Please sir, I was not here."

The "prof" bellowed forth,
"That's not excuse enough,
And what I want to know is
"Where did you get that stuff?"

The boy stood meek as a lamb,
Stood mopping at his brow,
Tried to think up a plan,
To stop this awful row.

At last a thought did strike him, A wicked stunning blow; He said, "The reason I was late, The street car was too slow."

The "prof" gulped once,
And once again in time.
And marked a white excuse
ON TIME.

GEORGE WHITE

Mr. Allen—"How was Alexander II killed?'
Martha M.—"By a bomb."
Mr. Allen—"How do you account for that?"
Martha M.—"It exploded."

Mr. Allen—(in U. S. History, pointing to the note-books,) "Save your backs, you may need them next semester."

Viss Morris to pupil. "What kind of distinces do we have in Geometry?"
Pupil—"Equidistants" (?)

Mr. Warner—Margaret, when do farmers take in tobacco?"
Margaret - thinking (or a short time) "O' I know! During Fair Week!"

Marble and Granite Monuments Otto Keck & son

Established 1885

Greenville, Ohio

TO THE CLASS OF 1921

Vim : Vigor : Vision

May These Help You in the Climb For Position and Prosperity

COMPLIMENTS OF

KESTER & DILLON, Barbers

610 Broadway

The York Supply Co.

WHOLESALE ONLY

Auto Supplies

MILLER TIRES

Phones 126 and 42

122-26 E. 3rd St.

Greenville, Ohio

HERE IS SOMETHING DIFFERENT IN Life Insurance

NO NEED TO "DIE TO WIN"

If you expect to start a savings account, why not start now with the GOOD OLD LINCOLN LIFE and get a "BIG 5" Policy, which has just recently been put on the market and sold only by the Lincoln Life.

J. C. W. COPPESS, District Manager

OFFICE -Ohio Block

PHONES: Office 199-Residence 185

Brumbaugh's Restaurant

Lor

GOOD EATS

PIES a Specialty

Candy and Cigars
Cigarettes and Tobacco

414 Broadway

Greenville, Ohio

Neglect alone will hasten the end of your Suit.

WE WILL KEEP IT ALIVE FOR YOU

HERING'S

Prompt Cleaners

607 Broadway

Phone 922

Goodrich Tires, Supplies and Accessories

Studebaker

and CHEVEROLET Cars

MRS. H. C. TEEGARDEN

Telephone 1039

613 Broadway

Greenville, Ohio

Latest Sheet Music

AT.

Hervey & Wilson

Crystola Phonographs

EMERSON RECORDS and PLAYER ROLLS

418 BROADWAY

(5)

THE CHIEF

Lucille Markwith—"Macbeth saw four apprehensions" (meaning apparitions.)

Maurice R. in English II.—" He was a very 'sourcastic' (sar-castic) man."

Ralph Wiebusch (innocently) "Mr. Kessler, what is an eight day alarm clock?"

Mr.K.—"Why it's a clock that runs eight days without winding."

R. W.-"Then how long will it run if you wind it?"

Mr. Allen in Civics—"What is the most industrial city in Obio?"

B. Huffman-"Chicago,"

C. Fox to Peg Cooke—"Say, tell me why do boys wear large watches and girls, small ones?"

Peg-"Because boys like to have a big time."

Ruth Riegel-(In Ancient History).

Mr. Rohleder-"By whom was Caesar murdered

Ruth—"By Ides in March." (Ides in March meaning the fifteenth of March.)

MODELED IN CLAY BY BIRELY LANDIS

In conclusion the Staff quotes the following lines with apologies to the English teachers

"I wish I was a little rock
Sittin' on a hill.

Down' nothing all day long
But rust a sittin' still.

I wouldn't eat, I wouldn't sleep,
I wouldn't even wash.

I'd just sit there the whole day long
And rest myself—By Gosh

